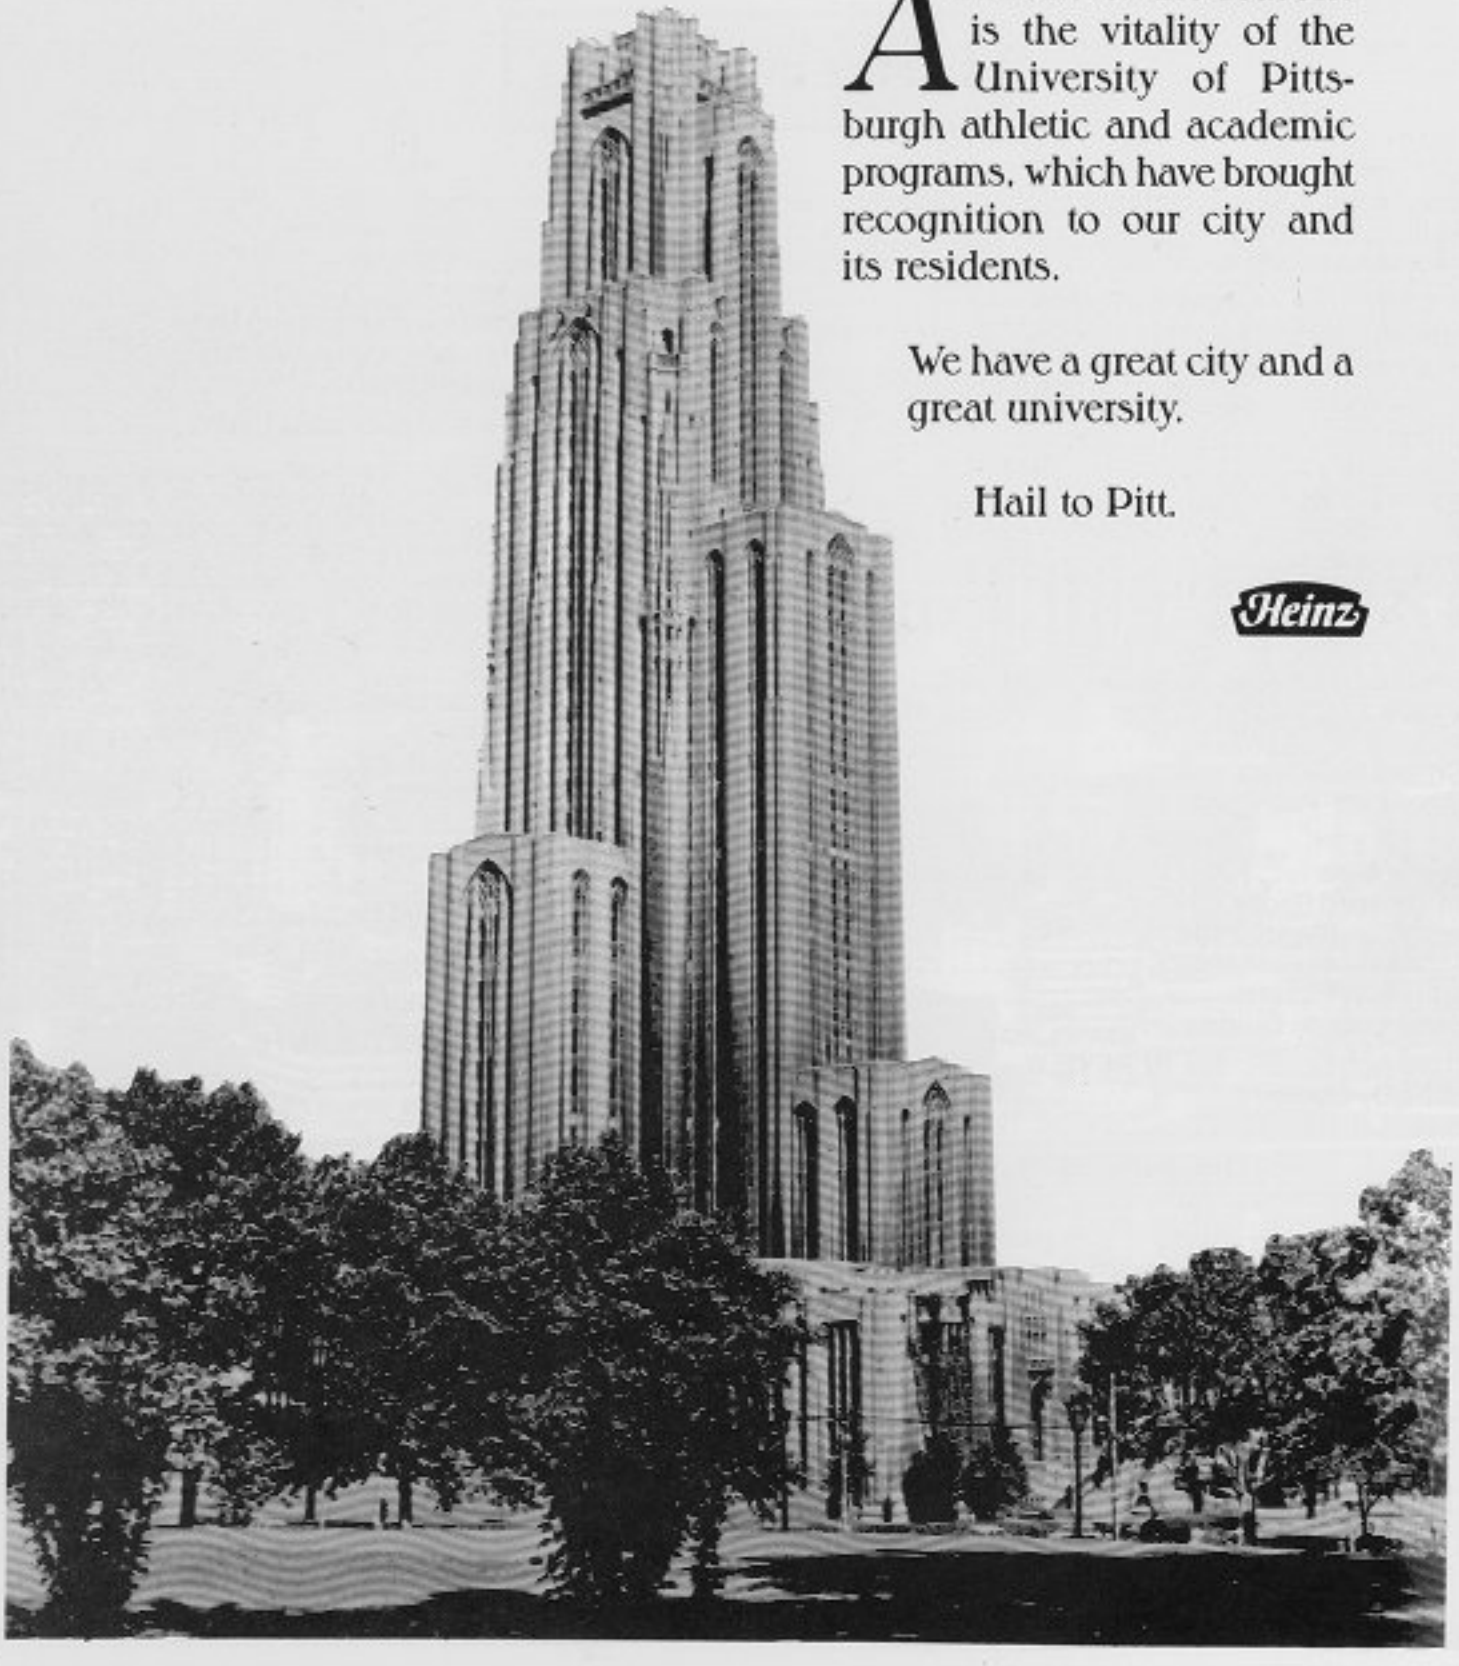
Pittsburgh is our home. We like it here.



And one of the reasons is the vitality of the University of Pittsburgh athletic and academic programs, which have brought recognition to our city and its residents.

We have a great city and a great university.

Hail to Pitt.

SERAFINO "FOGE" FAZIO
PITT HEAD FOOTBALL COACH

Foge Fazio is for real.

That's fundamental to Fazio's widespread appeal. He is a football coach you can relate to, a person you can approach and be comfortable with in conversation, on any occasion. He can laugh and cry with the best of them.

Anybody who attended the Golden Panthers' Auction this past winter will surely tell the story about Foge winning the bidding for a beautiful golden retriever puppy that was auctioned that evening.

His 17-year-old daughter, Kristen, was called upon to carry the puppy across the stage and show it to the audience in the William Pitt Union. Kristen and the puppy were a pair that pulled at everyone's heart, but none more than her dad's. He was a goner.

"We needed a new dog," explained Foge afterward. "Our dog, Patches, died last week. Boy, that was tough. That hurt. We had Patches for eight years, and she was like part of the family."

Fazio's family includes his wife, the former Norma Popovich, daughter Kristen and son Vince, who is 14, and can usually be found at his father's heels on the sideline during games.

His mother, Rosa, sister Rosemary, and brothers, Frank and Tony, are important to him, too, and are often seen at campus and family get-togethers.

They remind Foge of his roots, and the lessons he learned about the value of hard work, customer service and integrity while assisting his late father at the family's grocery store at Chess and Sixth Streets in Foge's hometown.

Foge comes from Coraopolis, a community to the west of the campus of the University of Pittsburgh, out by the Greater Pittsburgh International Airport. Foge hasn't forgotten where he comes from, often goes back to be with long-time friends and family, and even to help an old buddy campaign for political office.

He got his nickname because of the funny way he said "fudge" when he was a kid. When he attends sports banquets he likes to tell the background on his real name — Serafino Dante Fazio.

"You know, Serafino comes from seraphin, the little angels," he says. "And Dante was the Roman poet who wrote about all those unscrupulous characters making a fantasy trip through Hades. So that's the devil part of me. So I've got a little angel and a little devil in me."

That is, indeed, part of his charm.

He is happy to be the head football coach at his alma mater. He played both linebacker and center for the Panthers from 1957-60. He served as an assistant coach at Pitt under Carl DePasqua (1969-72) and Jackie Sherrill (1977-80). Under Sherrill, he became the defensive coordinator and the assistant head coach.

When Sherrill left after four successful seasons, Fazio was the first and most natural choice to succeed him.

So Fazio knows the tradition. He knows what is behind this season's "Celebration of Tradition" as well as anyone. Fazio knows the kind of football the fans and even his best friends and family have come to expect.

"Pittsburgh is being hailed as the most livable city in the country, so we're No. 1," he said this summer. "Pitt has been No. 1, when we won the national championship in 1976. Pitt was part of Pittsburgh being known as the City of Champions. Everyone wants to get back to that. They want to see the Steelers, and the Pirates and Pitt win big again. So do I.

"We have high standards. We've all been very successful. To keep that rating we have to win. We've dedicated ourselves to that end ever since last season. None of us were happy with the record (3-7-1) last season, not after going 8-3-1 and 9-3 the year before, in my first two years as head coach.

"We went to the Sugar Bowl my first year and the Fiesta Bowl my second year. And we want to get back to another bowl game this time around. We're all bringing a lot of dedication and a lot of pride and a lot of enthusiasm to the task this year."

In Foge's first two seasons, his 17 wins tied Sherrill for the best start of any football coach in Pitt history.

Foge attended more sports banquets and Golden Panther dinners and luncheons than ever during the past offseason, to make sure no one lost faith in the football program. He participated in more fund-raising affairs and lent his services to so many community service activities.

A record $100,000 was raised for the Leukemia Society of America at his celebrity golf outing at the Pittsburgh Field Club. The local chapter has reaped over $350,000 through the efforts of Foge and his friends who have spearheaded the event. If there isn't a conflict with Foge's schedule, he never says no when asked to participate in any charity-related programs.

He has gotten his football players involved in community service, too, sending them regularly to Children's Hospital and the V.A. Hospital, and to participate in Pittsburgh area fund raisers for the American Heart Association and WQED, for example.

"Foge is a Pitt man," says Dr. Bozik. "He embodies the values we have at the University. He understands them, knows them well, and I have the utmost trust and faith not only in his ability as a coach, but in his humanity, integrity and warmth."

Coach Fazio remains a great recruiter and salesman for the University. He topped the staff for many seasons in landing star players like Tony Dorsett and Danny Marino, and still is the chief catalyst for the club's success in recruiting in recent seasons, bringing in classes that ranked among the leaders in national listings.

"I like to meet the kids' families and their friends and to talk to them," offers Fazio. "I enjoy selling Pitt. I was fortunate to get two degrees from the University of Pittsburgh. I always tell our players that they are here for an education. Don't leave here without it. I just won't recruit anyone who doesn't want to graduate."

CHUCK STOBART
Offensive Coordinator

Chuck Stobart was the head coach at Utah, a school not known for offense, and a season ago it finished in the top ten in the country in total offense. Pitt, a school known for producing fine offensive teams, was looking for an offensive coordinator.

"I like the whole setup in Pittsburgh," said Stobart, the head coach at Utah for three seasons. "I especially like the idea of the tradition. One of my goals here is to make the offense one of the nation's finest."

He could. He was the offensive coordinator at Michigan during its powerful years in the early 1970s. He was the head coach at Toledo. He was the head coach at Utah, directing an offense that gained 430 total yards a game in 1983, eighth best in the country.

Schembechler, one of the finest college coaches in the country, has seen Stobart at work at Ohio and Michigan.

"He is a tremendous football man," Schembechler said. "He knows football, but more than that, he is an idea man. He is an excellent recruiter and really tireless worker. The guy can go all day."

His first year at Pitt should be an interesting one, especially with returning talent such as John Congemi, Charles Gladman, Chuck Scales, Tom Brown, and eight of the top 10 offensive linemen.

"We have the skill here at Pitt," Stobart said. "Our only lack is a big play man. We have to come up with 10 big plays a game. I consider a big play to be 10 or more yards, and big plays are made by big players. We had that objective at Utah, and we met it, and I expect to do the same here at Pitt."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Berne Union, 1959; Gallipolis, 1960; Mt. Vernon, 1961-64. COLLEGE — Marshall University, 1965; University of Cincinnati, 1966; Miami of Ohio, 1967-68, offensive coordinator; University of Michigan, 1969-75, offensive coordinator; Toledo University, 1976-80, head coach; University of Utah, 1981-84, head coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 10/27/34. Hometown: Bradbury, Ohio. Alma Mater: Ohio University '59. Married to the former Diana Chancey and father of Janna Kay (27), David Roger (24) and Gregory Vincent (30).

BOB JUNKO
Defensive Coordinator
Linebackers

Bob Junko can coach defense, and he has only one way: Keep it simple.

"I try to coach by the kiss method," Junko said. "I don't make anything complicated. I really don't like to lump all the players together. I treat each player as an individual, and that seems to work best."

Junko is the defensive coordinator and linebacker coach at Pitt, a school recognized as having one of the finest defenses in the country. His work is difficult. He is constantly reminded of the past.

"Coach Junko is an old-fashioned defensive coach," said Tom Flynn, former Pitt safety and the National Football Conference Defensive Rookie of the Year a season ago. "He likes to yell and scream. He's the kind of coach who knows how to get everything going. It's never boring out there, and every detail has to be perfect, all the way from breaking the huddle to breaking on the ball."

Head Coach Foge Fazio agreed.

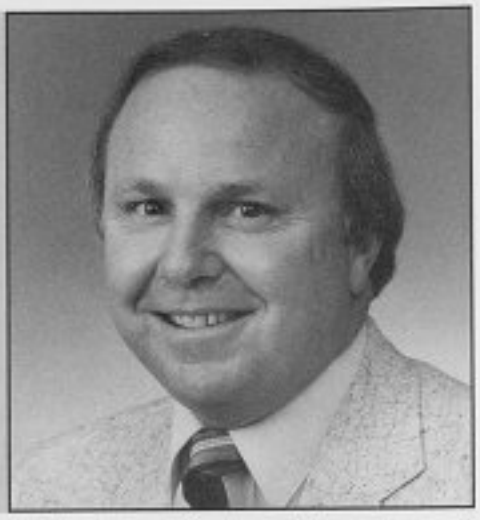
"Bob is an excellent teacher," Fazio said. "He's enthusiastic, loyal to the program, and a fine recruiter. The players respond to him very well."

This is a guy who loves to recruit and is one of the best in the business. Junko should be able to excel with his fundamental approach this year. He has, as he describes it, eight starters returning. He also has depth at nearly every position.

"I feel confident," said Junko, a native of nearby Washington, Pa. "We don't have the Hugh Greens and Rickey Jacksons like we did in the past, but heck, those types of players don't come along very often. We might not have the stats that the clubs of the late 1970s had, but we should be respected. We'll be tough."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — University of Tulsa, 1968, graduate assistant, 1969, freshman coach, 1970-74, linebacker coach, 1975-76, defensive coordinator; Texas Christian University, 1977-82, defensive coordinator, 1979-82, assistant head coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 7/4/46. Hometown: Washington, Pa. Alma Mater: University of Tulsa '68. Married to the former Judy Goodell and the father of Jeff (13), Mike (11) and Jay (5).



RUSS JACQUES
Quarterbacks
Wide Receivers

He has coached a couple of the premier quarterbacks in football, Jeff Hostetler and Oliver Luck. They both could throw, they both were quick and they both are now in the National Football League, but, more than anything else, they both were extremely intelligent. Hostetler and Luck were, in fact, candidates for Rhodes Scholarships.

"They were both 4.0 students," Jacques said. "But John Congemi is the smartest quarterback I've ever coached. As far as knowing the game of football, he is truly a coach on the field."

Congemi is one of the reasons Jacques is thrilled to be the new quarterback coach at the University of Pittsburgh. Another is Joe Felitsky. Another is the opportunity.

"I'm very excited," Jacques said. "Having coached against Pitt while at West Virginia, I know of its tradition and reputation. I just hope I can contribute and bring the program up where it belongs, which is one of the top five in the country."

He has the necessary coaching ability to make Congemi, like Hostetler and Luck, into an All-America college quarterback. He understands the basics. He understands what it takes to win.

"I'm disciplined, dedicated, organized and like to have fun," Jacques said. "Those are the qualities you need to be a good coach, and, for that matter, a good player. I expect the players to give me in return as much as I give them. They always know where they stand with me, and they always know their roles."

Jacques is pleased to be coaching at Pitt. He was, after all, one of the final individuals hired by Pitt Head Coach Foge Fazio.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Valley Forge, Parma, Oh., 1967-72, assistant coach; Cathedral Latin, Cleveland, Oh., 1973, assistant coach; North Royalton, 1974-75, head coach. COLLEGE — Bowling Green, 1975-78, defensive backs; Ohio University, 1976-79, offensive backs; West Virginia, 1980-84, offensive coordinator.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 2/26/45. Hometown: Parma, Oh. Alma Mater: Bowling Green '67. Father of Jeanine (13), Rusty (12), Melanie (11), Nicole (8) and Brett (3).

JOHN MONTGOMERY
Tight Ends

John Montgomery, more than anything else, understands football. He has coached inside linebackers. He has coached defensive ends. He has coached running backs. He has even coached kickers.

He can coach tight ends, too, although this season he will be doing that for the first time.

"Coach Fazio asked me when I applied for the job, 'Do you think you can do it?' " Montgomery said.

"Well, if they put on a helmet, I can coach them."

He is excited about the possibilities. Pitt has the tight ends. Pitt has the athletes. Montgomery has the coaching philosophy.

"Everyone at Pitt can play," Montgomery said. "Everybody came here with credentials.

"Credentials are potential, but effort is kinetic. When they step on the field, performance has to take over."

His expectations are high. He has Clint Wilson, possibly one of the premier tight ends in the country, returning after accepting a redshirt last season. He also has David Shuck, Pat Schipani, and Bob Lawson.

"I expect them all to play like Pitt players, like they're proud of the tradition and like they want to go to a bowl game," said Montgomery, the running back coach at Howard University a year ago. "I want them to truly believe that they are part of a top 10 ballclub, and when the time comes, to manifest that belief."

Montgomery does, after all, believe that himself.

"I came to Pitt for the opportunity to be associated with a terrific program," he said. "I'll have the opportunity to coach in a New Year's Day bowl game. I just couldn't pass up a chance like that."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — Oklahoma State, 1976, student assistant; Alabama A&M, 1978-80, inside linebacker coach; Wichita State, 1981-83, running back coach; Howard University, 1984, running back coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 9/4/54. Hometown: Poteau, Okla. Alma Mater: Oklahoma State '76. Father of John (1).

JOE MOORE
Offensive Line

Joe Moore is a Pittsburgher all the way, the type of guy who gets your attention and respect and holds on to it. He grabs hold of you and won't let go.

He is drill-sergeant tough, a natural to be one of the best offensive line coaches college football has ever seen.

He's sentimental, too, a softie down deep, and he'll hug you when you do well.

"Joe Moore may be the best line coach in college football," says a man respected for his football opinions, Gil Brandt of the Dallas Cowboys. "When Joe's guys come into pro football, they're ready to play. It's a credit to somebody. You can have the best players in the world, but if somebody doesn't develop them, it doesn't do you any good."

And Joe Moore — the rough, wind-burned offensive line coach at the University of Pittsburgh — produces more than his share of professional talent.

He has been coaching the offensive line for five seasons, sending eight players to the National Football League: Russ Grimm, Mark May, Emil Boures, Jimbo Covert, Rob Fada, Jim Sweeney, Ron Sams and Bill Fralic. And they all swear by him.

"I'm going to do everything I can to help them prepare for a (pro career)," Moore said. "It's like teaching piano. If you find a talent, you go for it — the great ones, you know? Let's become what we possibly can."

Moore truly believes that, he being a product of the Pittsburgh streets and all. He grew up in nearby Bloomfield, went to Schenley High School, then played on a national championship team at Tennessee, transferred to Penn State, and coached high school football in Western Pennsylvania for a number of years.

He twice tied for WPIAL championships while head coach at Upper St. Clair High School, prior to coming to Pitt.

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Richfield Springs, N.Y., 1959-60; Towanda, Pa., 1962-62; Erie McDowell, 1973-71; Upper St. Clair, 1972-75. COLLEGE — Joined Pitt staff in December, 1976.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 2/19/32. Hometown: Pittsburgh, Pa. Alma Mater: Penn State '58. Married to the former Frances Gaskil and father of Joe (25), John (23), James (18) and grandfather of John Patrick.

GERRY SOLOMON
Defensive Ends

Gerry Solomon sat alone in the coaches' room. He had just returned from a press conference featuring Chris Doleman, the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings. Solomon smiled.

"Pleasing to hear," Solomon said. "I'm really happy. Coaching players like him is easy. All you have to do is give them a point to focus on, and once they're focused, sit back and watch."

Solomon makes it sound so simple, and maybe it is for him. He has coached Alan Wenglikowski, now a linebacker for the Buffalo Bills, and Doleman in his first two years at Pitt. He has to be doing something right.

"I expect total dedication, total loyalty and complete striving for perfection from myself and from the players," Solomon said. "I expect them to carry on the great defensive tradition here at Pitt. I want them to play with great intensity, to constantly improve and, as a group, to make things happen. I don't want them to be satisfied with just an average job.

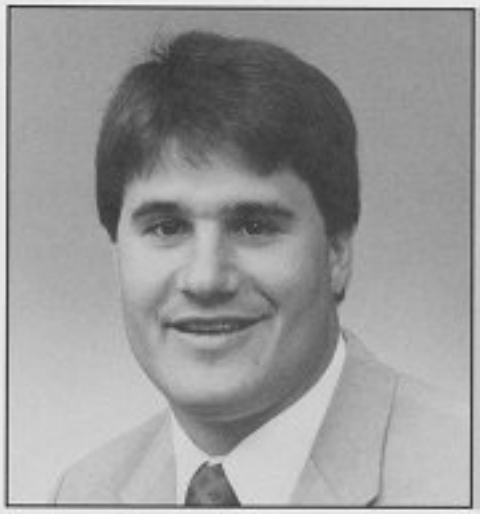
"We're carrying a banner here. We have a tradition to uphold. The tradition of Pitt's fine defense and, more importantly, the tradition of Pitt's great defensive ends."

Solomon is more than capable of carrying out his assignment. He has always expected more, even from himself. At Valley High School in New Kensington, Pa., he was an All-WPIAL and All-State linebacker. During his days at Bucknell University, he gained honorable mention All-East honors.

"I love it," Solomon said. "For me, dealing with kids makes it worthwhile. The resiliency of youth is terrific, and it keeps me young, too. And of course, another reason I like it here at Pitt is the players. They're great."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: HIGH SCHOOL — Central Catholic High School, 1976-78, assistant head coach and defensive coordinator. COLLEGE — Bucknell University 1973-75, graduate assistant; Muskingum College, 1975-76, linebacker and defensive end coach; Carnegie-Mellon University, 1978-79, defensive line coach; Bowling Green, 1979-82, linebacker coach.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 3/21/51. Hometown: Arnold, Pa. Alma Mater: Bucknell '73. Father of Joseph (9) and Jennifer (7).



SAL SUNSERI

Defensive Line

He was one of the most gutsy linebackers in the history of Pitt football. He was not big, but he could hit. He was not fast, but he was quick. He was, more than anything else, intelligent.

Sal Sunseri, those credentials in his past, was meant to coach college football.

"It's great to be back," said Sunseri, returning this season to Pitt as the defensive line coach. "I learned a lot of defensive strategy from Coach Fazio, and I hope I can try and teach some of that this year. Little things make the difference, and that's what coaches are for."

Sunseri, playing on a defense which ranked first in the country, was the only Pitt player to be named All-America in 1981. Fazio, even then, quickly noticed the capabilities of his leading tackler. "He's just so intelligent," the present Pitt Head Coach said of Sunseri in 1981. "He's just like having another coach on the field. Sal is truly one of the best linebackers to ever play the game at Pitt."

He was drafted in the sixth round by the Pittsburgh Steelers, but placed on injured reserve during training camp. He was released after the next season, after another injury hampered his professional career.

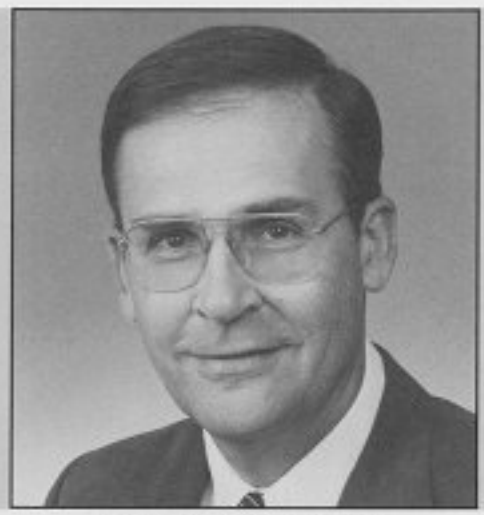
A year later, Sunseri was back at Pitt, instructing the linebackers as a volunteer assistant. He was named to a full-time position last winter.

He will coach some of the top line talent in the country this season: Bob Buczkowski, Bob Schilken, Dennis Atiyeh, Walter Johnson and Lorenzo Freeman. His job will not be easy, but, with his football knowledge, Sunseri should be effective.

"This was a goal of mine, and I'm really excited," said Sunseri, who grew up in Greenfield and is a graduate of nearby Central Catholic High School. "I worked hard when I was playing, hoping to get just this opportunity. Instinct ... awareness ... intelligence ... those are the important qualities I was taught and I hope to teach them to my players."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE — University of Pittsburgh, 1983-84, graduate assistant.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 8/1/59. Hometown: Pittsburgh, Pa. Alma Mater: Pitt '82. Married to the former Roxann Evans.



ANDY URBANIC

Running Backs

Andy Urbanic, off the football field, passes as a polite, soft-spoken individual. He always has a pleasant smile, always a pleasant word. He is respected by the players and a friend of the coaches.

He is different with a whistle around his neck. Much different.

Urbanic yells. Urbanic screams. Urbanic turns red with anger. And Urbanic, most importantly, coaches running backs as well as anybody in the country. He commands respect. And gets it.

"It's exciting, and I'm darn glad to be part of it," Urbanic said with a smile.

He is one of Pitt's finest representatives, a well-received dinner or luncheon speaker or clinic lecturer. He shines in that manner and is quite the fashion plate.

Urbanic came to Pitt in 1980 after 11 seasons at Penn Hills High School, traditionally one of the most productive scholastic squads in Pennsylvania. He coached some of the premier football players in the country during his stay at the suburban Pittsburgh high school: Bill Fralic, Tom Flynn, Tom Johnson, Bob Lawson, Joel Coles.

This season should be one of Urbanic's best. He has that kind of talent in the backfield. Charles Gladman, the leading rusher last year, returns. So does A.B. Brown, Darnell Stone, Tom Brown and Ezekial Gadson.

"We're going to be deep this year," Urbanic said. "If anything happens to one guy, another can step right in. As a coach, that's always a good situation. I'm really looking forward to it."

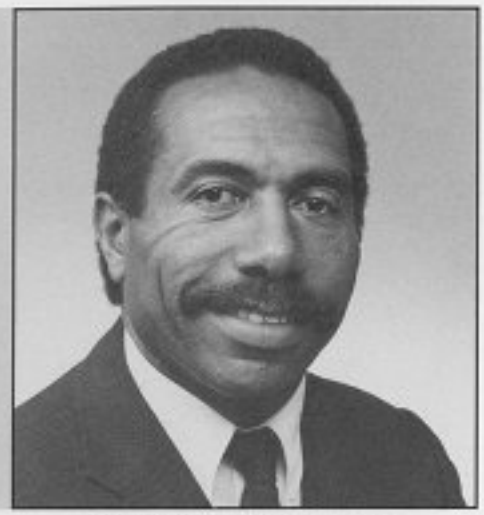
PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 9/7/37. Hometown: Carnegie, Pa. Alma Mater: Bethany College '59. Married to the former Dorothy Gross and father of Andrea Lynn (17) and Stacy Ann (10).



TRENT WALTERS

Defensive Backs

Trent Walters last played football nearly twenty years ago, but the years and the inactivity do not show. He weighs 185 pounds, the same as his senior year at Indiana University. He does not smoke. He does not drink. He constantly maintains a proper physical appearance. He works as hard in the weight room as any of the players.

"I want to project a positive image," Walters said. "I look as in shape as most of my defensive backs. I have to set a good example to the kids: in coaching, in appearance, in everything. The players have to be an extension of the coach."

He expects them to be serious. He expects them to be neat, down to their jerseys always being tucked into their pants. He expects them to be aggressive. Walters always looks and dresses the part.

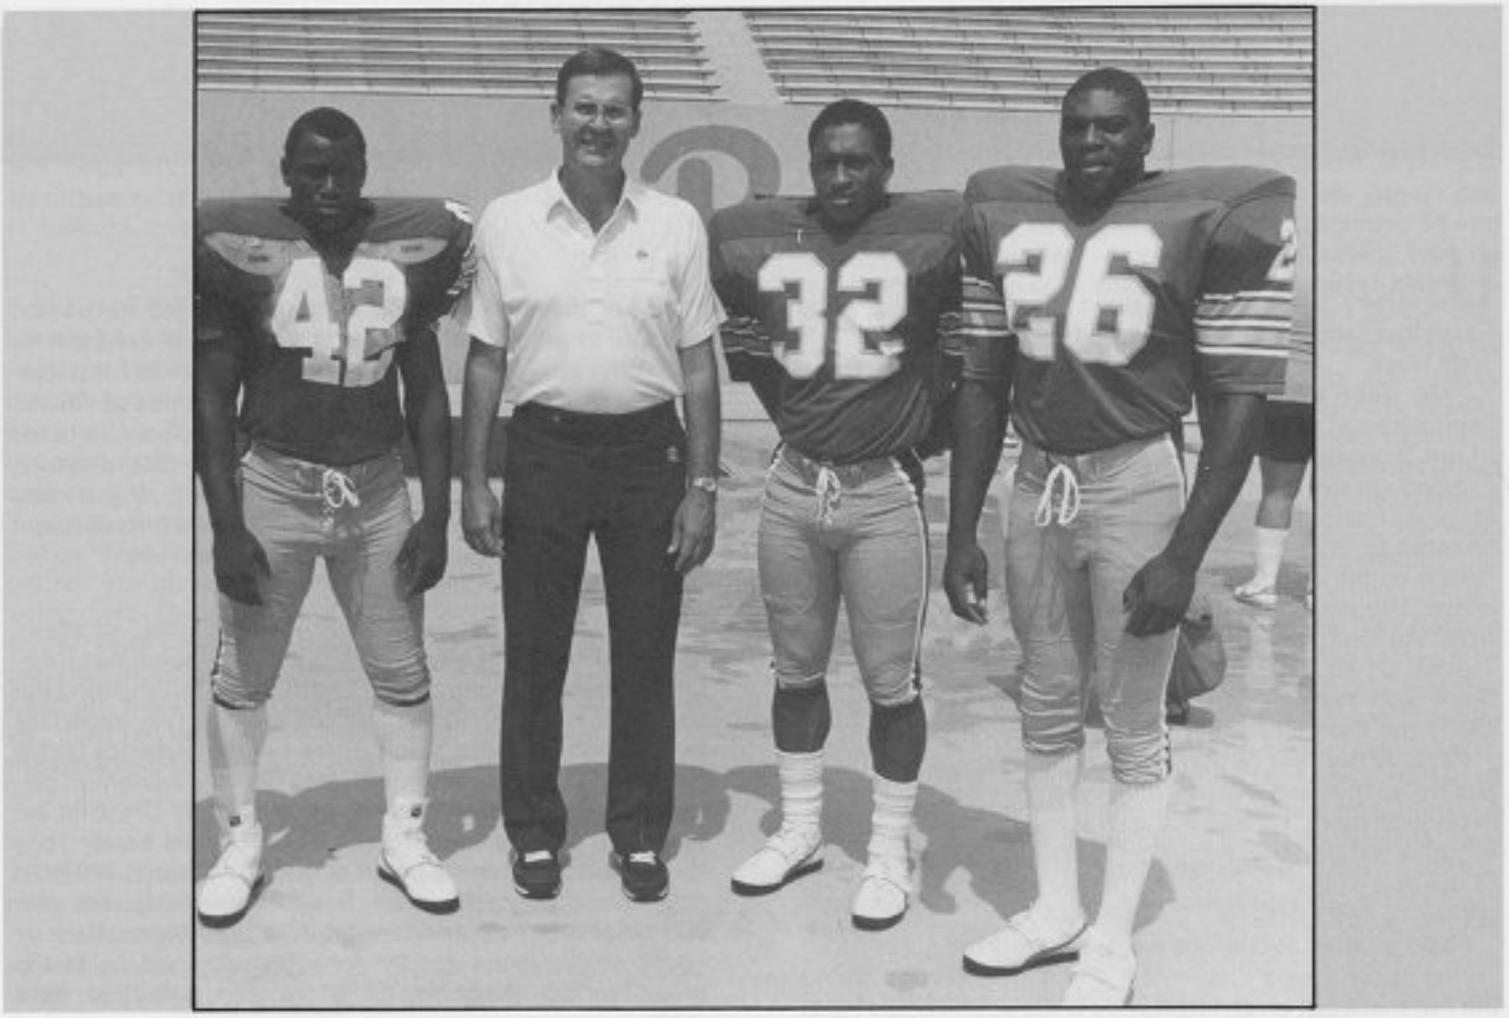
"I feel you win games with discipline," said Walters, the new defensive back coach at the University of Pittsburgh. "Players have to have the winning attitude. They are in college, number one, to get an education, number two, for football, but the discipline I instill in them has to carry over in whatever they do."

Walters' show-'em-how has been successful everywhere he has coached. He coached at Indiana, his alma mater. He coached the defensive backs for Don James at Washington, one of the most successful programs in the country. He coached the Cincinnati Bengals special teams into the No. 1 kickoff and punt return squad in the National Football League.

"He brings a wide variety of experiences," Pitt head coach Foge Fazio said, "and he is regarded as an excellent recruiter."

COACHING EXPERIENCE: COLLEGE: Indiana, 1968-69, assistant freshman coach, 1970-72, freshman coach; Louisville, 1973, defensive backs; Indiana, 1974-80, defensive backs; Washington, 1981-83, defensive back; PROFESSIONAL: Cincinnati Bengals, 1984, special team and defensive backs.

PERSONAL INFORMATION: Date of Birth: 11/20/43; Hometown: Knoxville, Tenn.; Alma Mater: Indiana University, 1966; Married to the former Gail McHenry and father of Trent Daren (11), Vanessa Lynn (10) and Troy McHenry (8).



LOOKING TO THE FUTURE — Running Back Coach Andy Urbanic will be counting on A.B. Brown (42), Charles Gladman (32), and Ezekial Gadson (26) in 1985.

GRADUATE ASSISTANTS

John Hendrick

Jay Venuto

Hard working. Dedicated. Knowledgeable. Devoted.

It may sound like a description of some type of superman. In a sense, it is.

The Pitt graduate assistants are some of the hardest workers on the Panther staff. They are up at the crack of dawn assisting the coaches and they often don't leave until the sun has set.

This year's graduate assistants are Jay Venuto and John Hendrick. Venuto is a former All-ACC quarterback from Wake Forest. Hendrick is a former Pitt player and three-year letterman.

Not many people would recognize them if they were to walk down the street. They do not get the respect that they deserve. But, still they put the time in and it does pay off.

Three of last year's graduate assistants have gone on to be assistant coaches. Sal Sunseri is now coaching at Pitt, Yogi Jones is at James Madison and Hal Hunter is at Columbia. They put in the long, tedious hours and for them, to put it mildly, it was well worth it.

1985 OUTLOOK

University of Pittsburgh Head Football Coach Foge Fazio has rather simple but important expectations of his 1985 team.

"We want a tough, aggressive attitude," says Fazio, "and we need to have consistent improvement in all areas of our football team."

Although the Panthers had a disappointing 3-7-1 record in 1984, Fazio and his squad are optimistic about their chances in '85.

One might wonder what the reasons are for that optimism. The two most important reasons were the results from the final two games of last season. Pitt defeated Tulane, 21-10, before traveling to traditional rival Penn State and handing the Nittany Lions a 31-11 setback, easily the Panthers' most impressive performance.

Fazio is the first to admit that last season was a trying one for all involved. He has responded by "getting after it" that much more. He and his staff turned in their third consecutive outstanding recruiting class, and the momentum of the end of last season and the recruiting season is expected to carry over into this season.

Fazio's fall expectations are essentially the goals he instilled in his young club in '84, and with a healthy squad the Panthers put on an impressive show at University Park.

"Offensively, we want to be able to move the ball," he says. "We want to eliminate mistakes and get the ball into the endzone.

"Defensively, we want to return to the aggressive and reckless style of the past. We want to restore the tradition that has made the Pitt defense one of the nation's best.

"Our spring drills were highlighted by an improved offense and showed that we will have more depth than in 1984. The attitude and enthusiasm that were evident in the spring will carry over into the 1985 season."

Following is a position by position breakdown of the 1985 Panthers:

OFFENSE

SPLIT END — There will be young but talented people at the spot this year. Sophomore Dwayne Milloy, who was bothered by injuries last season, will be counted on, as will sophomore Mike Stewart. Says Fazio, "Dwayne and Mike can both catch the ball and have excellent speed. It's a matter of them gaining game experience." Also battling for the job will be sophomore Dexter Hairston and sophomore Mark Stanton, both of whom were bothered with injuries last season. Gone is Jeff Casper, who had 11 catches for 137 yards in 1984.

FLANKER — Juniors Chuck Scales and Matt Stennett will be counted on heavily and should be improved over a year ago. Scales was Pitt's second-leading receiver last season with 22 catches for 431 yards and two touchdowns. Stennett had five receptions for 74 yards a year ago. "Chuck Scales returns and he did a good job for us last season after he made the transition from halfback to receiver," says Fazio. "If Matt Stennett reaches his potential, we could have two real good players at this position." Depth at this spot will come from the same players listed above at the split end position. Pitt's record-setting receiver of the past two years, Bill Wallace, is gone and will need to be replaced. Incoming freshmen have talent and speed to add depth to the wideout position.

OFFENSIVE LINE — Under the leadership of offensive line coach Joe Moore, this area of the team has traditionally been a strong point. Six lettermen return along the offensive front; however, missing will be two important figures from last year's line. Three-time All-America tackle Bill Fralic is gone, as is guard Greg Christy, a talented performer when he was healthy. Junior Randy Dixon is expected to pick up where Fralic left off, while senior Tony Brown, who started at guard some last season, will hold down the other tackle spot. Senior Barry Pettyjohn, who started at both guard and center in '84, will concentrate on guard, while senior starter Mike Dorundo will be at the other slot. Sophomores Ed Miller and Bob Sign were starters at times last season. Miller will remain at center, while Sign will move to guard. Redshirt freshman Tom Ricketts will battle at tackle, as will former defensive tackle Chuck Williams, a redshirt sophomore, and redshirt freshman John Matarazzo. Sophomore Scott Costy, junior Andy Lewis, and redshirt freshman Jim Zdelar will provide depth at guard.

"Miller and Sign both played a lot last season at center, and I feel good about that position," says Fazio. "Dorundo and Pettyjohn are experienced at guard, as are Dixon and Brown at tackle. Fralic and Christy will be tough to replace, but hopefully these people will be able to pick it up." Fazio also had a good year recruiting linemen and some of those freshmen may provide depth.

TIGHT END — Redshirt senior Clint Wilson would have been counted on heavily, but he broke his foot during fall camp and missed the year. Wilson is back, and he is bigger and stronger than in '83 when he had a fine season. Junior Pat Schipani, who caught nine passes for 72 yards and a touchdown, and sophomore Dave Shuck gained valuable experience last season and should be a plus this year. Senior Bob Lawson will also provide depth. "It looks as if Wilson, Schipani and Shuck all have the equipment and experience to make this a better position for us than last year," said Fazio.

FULLBACK — Fazio is confident that senior Darnell Stone and junior Tom Brown have the abilities to replace Marc Bailey and Marlon McIntyre, who manned this spot the past two years. Last season, Stone carried the ball 24 times for 118 yards and a touchdown and caught eight passes for 47 yards and a touchdown. Brown's playing time was limited because of injury, but he did gain 48 yards on 12 carries and catch two passes for 18 yards. Says Fazio, "Replacing Marlon and Marc will be difficult; however, Stone and Brown have the speed and size and will hopefully gain the experience to help." Redshirt freshman Vernon Kirk has been moved from defensive end to fullback and will hopefully help.

TAILBACK — Sophomore starter Charles Gladman, the team's second-leading rusher with 525 yards on 134 carries, will be back to improve on those totals. Gladman rushed for a touchdown, in addition to catching eight passes for 75 yards. Depth could be a problem here because sophomore Craig Heyward, last year's leading rusher, will miss the season for disciplinary reasons. "Charles Gladman proved he can run last year," says Fazio. "With a year's experience, he should be that much better." The players Fazio will be counting on for depth are sophomore Ezekial Gadson and redshirt freshman A.B. Brown. Both players are talented but have little experience and their progress has been hindered because of injuries. In addition, highly-recruited Brian Davis from Washington, Pa., joins the team, and there will be high expectations for the Parade Magazine Co-Player of the Year.

QUARTERBACK — Senior John Congemi will be looking to have a better season staying away from injuries. He was not completely healthy for any game last year, but he turned in an outstanding performance against Penn State when he was as physically fit as he had been all year. The Penn State game brought back memories of the fine 1983 season Congemi had. Congemi finished '84 with 93 completions in 174 attempts for 1,102 yards, seven interceptions and nine touchdowns. John Cummings played a great deal last season, and will provide depth, as will sophomore Joe Felitsky, a transfer from Notre Dame who is eligible after sitting out a year. "John Congemi, when healthy, has demonstrated that he is an excellent quarterback," says Fazio. "We feel John can provide us with the leadership we need to have a successful offense. Cummings and Jelic return, and we will take a good look at Joe Felitsky." Felitsky had an outstanding spring.

DEFENSE

END — One-half of an outstanding pair of athletes is back. Chris Doleman is gone, but junior Tony Woods, who had 36 tackles and three sacks in seven games, will be back. Also returning is senior Bill Sapio, who is back for his fourth year of eligibility and played a great deal as a backup and part-time starter. Sapio finished fifth on the team in tackles with 64, including 37 solos. Charley Swink, who transferred to Pitt from Penn State, and Matt Bradley, a transfer from UCLA, will also be in the battle. Redshirt sophomore Kevin Wortham and redshirt freshman Aleem Abu Bakr will provide depth. Like the rest of the squad, this position was hard hit by injuries last season. "Chris Doleman will be a big loss," says Fazio, "however, Tony Woods has the same type of size and skill to make the big play. Bill Sapio is a steady performer, and he has seen a lot of action the past two years. The depth will come from unproven players." Sophomore Jon Carter moved from tackle in the spring.

LINE — The same three players who started along the defensive front for the Penn State game are back, and they could provide the foundation on which Fazio would like to build a strong defensive team. Fazio will be looking for big plays from this unit. Senior Dennis Atiyeh will man the middle guard spot, while senior Bob Buczkowski and junior Walter Johnson return at the tackles. Atiyeh and Johnson played in all 11 games in '84 and recorded 56 and 50 tackles, respectively. Atiyeh had eight sacks, tops on the team, and Johnson added five. Buczkowski played in nine games with 37 tackles (three sacks). Senior Bob Schilken has been moved back to middle guard where he will compete with Atiyeh and redshirt junior John Rees. Junior Lorenzo Freeman, redshirt freshman John Glesky and senior John Kukalis, who has moved from defensive end, will provide backups at tackle. "We have a solid group along the defensive line," says Fazio. "But we are counting on these players to make the big plays for us. We need more big plays from them in order to be successful."

LINEBACKER — Gone are two-year starters Troy Benson and Caesar Aldisert, the number one and two tacklers on the team each of the past two seasons. A group of talented but inexperienced players will have to fill the spots. Junior Steve Apke, who played defensive end most of last season, will move back to Aldisert's position. Apke has started at linebacker during his career; as a freshman, he turned in a sterling performance in the Fiesta Bowl. Sophomore Jerry Wall, junior Lee Hetrick, sophomore Matt LaVigna, sophomore Jeff Shockley, and sophomore Bill McLean will battle for Benson's old spot and provide depth at both positions. "I've always said that Benson and Aldisert were the finest pair of linebackers we've had here at Pitt," said Fazio. "Replacing them will be a major task."

SECONDARY — Senior Bill Callahan, the most steady defensive back, will quarterback the secondary from his strong safety spot. Sophomore Quintin Jones gained valuable experience during the latter part of last season at the left corner. Melvin Dean, a two-year starter at the right corner, is gone. Junior Reggie Smith and sophomore Nate Heyward will back up Callahan, while junior Keith Tinsley, seniors John Lewis, Chris Merchant and Lanell Anderson will provide assistance at the corners. Sophomore Dante Wiley, senior Bill McCormick, and redshirt freshman Troy Washington will be at free safety. "The secondary was a problem for us last year," says Fazio. "We need a lot of work there, and we need to find the right four people to play as a unit. We have Quintin Jones and Bill Callahan coming back from the Penn State game. We expect big things from Callahan. Tinsley, Smith, Lewis and Wiley all started and played last season, and all of them will see action this year."

KICKERS — Sophomore Mark Brasco is back to handle the extra-point and field goal duties, while senior Pat Viancourt will be the kickoff man. Brasco made six of 14 field goal attempts, with a long of 52 yards that tied the school record. He also made all 14 of his extra-point attempts. Viancourt has made a habit of nailing non-returnable kickoffs. "Hopefully with a year's experience and maturity Mark Brasco will become more consistent in his field goal kicking. We are confident that he will improve. Viancourt continues to do the job for us on kickoffs. Dave Cullen will punt for us," said Fazio.

1985 PROSPECTUS RUNDOWN

LETTERMEN:
Returning 43 (16 offense, 25 defense, 3 specialists) including 12 starters (5 offense, 7 defense)

PROBABLE STRONG SPOTS: Experience and depth along the offensive and defensive interior lines

AREAS OF CONCERN: Finding replacements at the linebacking, split end and flanker positions

PLAYERS WHO SHOULD RECEIVE ALL-STAR CONSIDERATION:

Bill Callahan, senior strong safety
"Bill is a tough competitor," says Coach Fazio. "He's a three-year starter for us, and he has excellent speed and quickness. He is just a steady, consistent performer. We expect big things from Bill this season."

John Congemi, senior quarterback
"John has played some excellent football for us," says Coach Fazio. "When healthy, John Congemi is as good as anybody in the country. We plan on keeping him healthy this year."

Randy Dixon, junior offensive tackle
"Randy has been a starter since his freshman year," says Coach Fazio. "He has the size, strength and speed to fall in line with the Mark Mays, Russ Grimms, Jimbo Coverts, and Bill Fralics."

Clint Wilson, senior tight end
"Clint was on the way to having an excellent season last year when he broke his foot," says Coach Fazio. "He is bigger and stronger now, and we expect him to pick up where he left off in '83. He has very good hands, and he has improved his blocking tremendously."

NEW FACES TO WATCH:
Quintin Jones, sophomore cornerback
Steve Apke, junior linebacker
Dwayne Milloy, sophomore split end
Tom Ricketts, freshman offensive tackle
Tony Woods, junior defensive end

14 LANELL ANDERSON CB SR/6-1/185 Clairton, Pa.
Anderson is a fifth-year senior . . . has played mostly on special teams the last two years and will be in battle for playing time at both corner positions . . . has played all spots in the secondary . . . "Lanell improved in the spring," says Coach Walters, "but he was injured and that slowed his progress. I expect a lot of improvement from Lanell this season." . . . sat out freshman year with a shoulder injury . . . earned three football and four track letters at Clairton High School (Coach Pat Risha) . . . a Business major at Pitt . . . Lanell Melvin Anderson was born 7/10/62 . . . one of three sons of Willie and Emma Anderson of Clairton, Pa.

50 STEVE APKE LB JR/6-2½/215 Cincinnati, Oh.
Apke is expected to take over for the graduated Caesar Aldisert . . . although small for his position, Apke has proven time and again over the past two years that he can play and get the same results as the big guys . . . played behind starter Caesar Aldisert as a freshman and played at a defensive end spot last year . . . was bothered by injuries for much of last season . . . when Aldisert was injured in the Penn State game two years ago, Apke filled in against Ohio State in the Fiesta Bowl . . . in that game he recorded a team-high 14 tackles and recovered a fumble . . . played in eight games in '84, recording 57 tackles (33 solos, 24 assists) and three sacks . . . "Steve is an excellent football player," says Coach Fazio. "He's not a big kid, but he plays very aggressively, like a bull in a china shop." . . . "He has a knack for finding the football, and when he does find it he tackles you," says Coach Junko. "He plays at a higher intensity than most players. At his size he couldn't play if he weren't that way." . . . received the Ed Conway Award as the most improved defensive player on the squad during spring drills two years ago . . . earned four letters in football at Moeller High School (Coach Steve Klonne) . . . also earned four basketball and four baseball letters . . . has three brothers and three sisters . . . Steve J. Apke was born 8/3/65 and is the son of Ronald and Mary Ann Apke of Cincinnati.

27 ANTHONY BROWN HB FR/5-10/210 Salem, N.J.
Brown started the '84 season on the special teams . . . a knee injury in the Temple game forced A.B. to miss the remainder of the season, and he received a medical redshirt . . . has four years of eligibility . . . had a fine spring, starring in the Blue-Gold spring game . . . before injury returned four kickoffs for 65 yards . . . "A.B. is probably one of the most improved football players on our team this year," says Coach Urbanic. "Now that he's settled down for a year and gotten his feet on the ground, he feels more comfortable and at ease, and he feels that he can contribute. He really fit into the picture very smoothly this spring." . . . was regarded as one of the top backs in the country coming out of Salem High School where he rushed for 4,017 yards in three seasons . . . gained 2,012 yards on 260 carries and scored 21 touchdowns as a senior . . . school record holder for single-season yards rushing and touchdowns; both marks were formerly held by Penn State great Lydell Mitchell.

Tom Brown

44 TOM BROWN FB JR/6-1/225 Lower Burrell, Pa.

Brown played in a backup role last year and was bothered by injuries . . . was limited to 12 carries for 48 yards and two pass receptions for 18 yards in '84 . . . along with Darnell Stone, Brown will be counted on heavily at fullback where Marc Bailey and Marlon McIntyre pulled the load the past two seasons . . . Brown was tried at tight end last season before suffering a knee injury . . . Brown carried the ball 10 times for 34 yards and caught two passes for nine yards in '83 . . . "Tommy's strongest points are his strength and ability to run over people and block," says Coach Urbanic. "He is a punishing fullback. He is a heckuva football player. He just loves physical contact and has worked very hard to become a tremendous blocker." . . . Brown is coming off a fine spring . . . says Coach Fazio, "He's like a truck out there when he gets going. I wouldn't want to be back there trying to tackle him." . . . earned 11 letters in football, track, basketball, and wrestling at Burrell High School (Coach Bernie Storer) . . . was MVP of his high school team for three years . . . brother of former Pitt tight end John Brown, who caught the game-winning TD pass from Dan Marino in the 1982 Sugar Bowl . . . 72 TONY BROWN OT SR/6-5/265 Stamford, Conn.

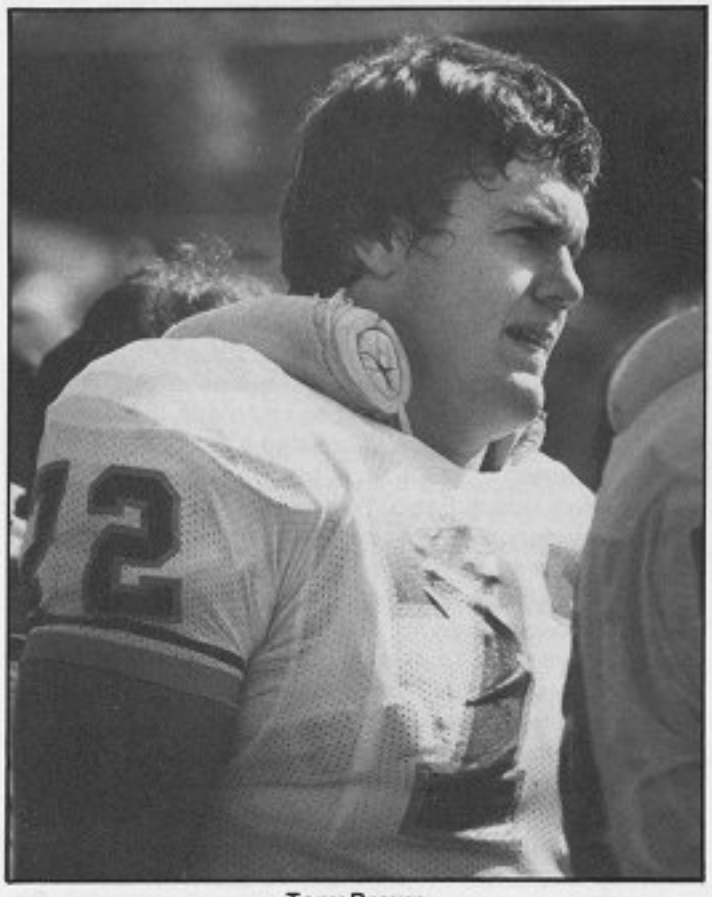
After starting every game at right tackle two years ago, Brown was moved to guard last season where he started most of the year . . . with the graduation of Bill Fralic, Brown has moved back to tackle and should be a starter . . . will be teamed with All-America candidate Randy Dixon to give coach Joe Moore an experienced pair of tackles . . . played both tight end and tackle at Stamford Catholic High School (Coach Joe Anzalone) . . . "Playing with Bill Fralic and (former Pitt center) Jim Sweeney has been an important thing in my development as a lineman," says Brown. "Having guys like that do such a good job on the line provides me with good role models. It makes me work harder so I can play on a level with them. Sweeney had some good guys in front of him, and it helped him." . . . "Tony has been more aggressive and more active as a football player, as you expect a senior to be," says Coach Moore. "If we're going to have a good football team, a lot is going to depend on what type of year he has." . . . was second-team All-Connecticut as a tight end and All-League at tackle . . . earned three football and three basketball letters in high school . . . a Communications major . . . has one sister . . . Anthony B. Brown was born 7/11/63 . . . son of Anthony and Anne Brown of Stamford, Conn.



Tony Brown

95 BOB BUCZKOWSKI DT SR/6-5/265 Monroeville, Pa.

Buczkowski was a starter last season but missed two games due to injuries . . . started at times during the early part of the '83 season before being bothered with several injuries . . . teams with Walter Johnson and Dennis Atiyeh to give the Panthers a strong defensive front . . . last season Buczkowski made 37 tackles (23 solos, 14 assists), had three sacks and broke up two passes . . . "Bob has a chance to become one of the fine tackles at Pitt," says Coach Sunseri. "He is a big play-type person. If he keeps healthy, he will be a good choice in the draft." . . . says Coach Fazio: "Bob has as much natural athletic ability as any of the people at that position." . . . was in on 34 tackles, including 19 solos, in '83 and had two sacks and three tackles for losses . . . was a member of the Pitt track team during the '82 indoor season and won the Big East Shot put title . . . was considered one of the best prep linemen in the country his senior year at Gateway High School (Coach Pete Antimarino) . . . won state high school shot put title as a junior . . . 15 JOHN CONGEMI QB SR/6-0/185 Lauderdale Lakes, Fla.

Congemi could be the best quarterback in the East, succeeding Doug Flutie of Boston College . . . after having one of the best seasons in the country as a sophomore, Congemi suffered through an injury-plagued year in 1984 . . . like the team as a whole, Congemi was constantly bothered by injuries last season . . . he injured his ankle in fall camp, and he did not come close to being completely healthy until the final game of the season against Penn State . . . against the Nittany Lions, he completed 16 of 22 passes for 204 yards and three touchdowns . . . finished the '84 season with 93 completions in 174 attempts (53.4 percent) for 1,102 yards, nine touchdowns, and seven interceptions . . . for his career, has passed for 3,042 yards, which ranks him fifth on the Pitt career passing list . . . "John had an excellent spring," says Coach Stobart. "He handled the offense extremely well. He handled things like a coach would. He is a very knowledgeable quarterback, and he showed a lot of leadership in the spring." . . . "John Congemi is the smartest quarterback that I've ever coached, as far as his knowledge of the game of football," says Coach Jacques, who coached Jeff Hostetler, a pretty smart quarterback, at West Virginia. "He is truly what you want in a quarterback as a coach. He is a leader, takes charge, and doesn't make mistakes. He doesn't force things, and he is a disciplined football player." . . . came on the scene in '83 when starter John Cummings suffered a season-ending broken collarbone in the season-opener at Tennessee . . . he blossomed into one of the finest quarterbacks in the country . . . capped off the '83 season by being named the most valuable player (offense) in the Fiesta Bowl, in which he set game records for most completions (31) and total offense (361 yards) . . . says Coach Fazio: "John has played some excellent football for us. When healthy, John Congemi is as good as anybody in the country. We plan on keeping him healthy this year." . . . as a sophomore, he completed 170 of 286 passes for 1,940 yards, 16 touchdowns and eight interceptions . . . his 341 yards passing in the Fiesta Bowl is the sixth-best single game passing performance in the school's history . . . his '83 passing yardage is the number three all-time single season by a Pitt quarterback . . . Dan Marino passed for 2,876 yards in 1981 and 2,432 yards in 1982 . . . says Temple Coach Bruce Arians, who recruited Congemi when Arians was an assistant under "Bear" Bryant at Alabama: "I love that boy. He's a great young man. He's a good tough kid with a good throwing arm. Randy Dixon

69 RANDY DIXON OT JR/6-4/280 Clewiston, Fla.
Last season Dixon let everybody know that Pitt had more than just one outstanding offensive tackle in Bill Fralic . . . while Fralic was receiving much-deserved recognition, Dixon was performing steadily on the other side . . . Dixon and Fralic each played right and left tackle last season . . . Coach Moore has said that Dixon, an All-America candidate, will be a first-round draft choice when he leaves Pitt . . . says Fralic, "Randy is our next All-America candidate." . . . Dixon arrived on the scene as a freshman when he played most of the second half at Maryland . . . he was on the field as Pitt made a run at winning the game in its final drive . . . after the Maryland game Dixon improved and saw a great deal of playing time the rest of the '83 season . . . had another good spring . . . says Coach Fazio, "Randy has been a starter since his freshman year. He has the size, strength and speed to fall in line with the Mark Mays, Russ Grimms, Jimbo Coverts and Bill Fralics." . . . "If Randy keeps going, he's going to be a first round draft choice," says Coach Moore. "Randy is just so determined. If he makes a mistake, he tries to correct it. He is very ambitious. He wants to excel. He is a very strong worker." . . . "Randy is a very strong football player," says Coach Stobart. "He has all of the equipment to be a traditional Pitt offensive lineman. He is built from the same mold as the guys we have played in the pros." . . . earned three football letters at Clewiston High School (Coach Al Morrell) . . . was All-Southwest Florida (two years), All-State (two years) and captained the All-State team in his senior season . . . also earned four letters in track and in the state championships took second and third in the discus and shot put, respectively . . . was his high school's "Athlete of the Year" in 1981-82 . . . has one brother and one sister . . . "Chuck is awfully big and strong," says Coach Moore. "He has been injured and it depends on how his knee comes along. We switched him to tackle in the spring but didn't get to work with him very much. This fall will be very important to him." . . . earned three letters in football at Freedom High School (Coach Chuck Lucidore) . . . Don Nehlen, West Virginia head coach, said after '83 recruiting season, "I thought we were running neck and neck with Pitt in recruiting this year, right up until the time they signed Chuckie Williams." . . . was a high school All-America . . . earned eight letters in other sports . . . has two brothers and one sister . . . Charles Wiliams was born 7/14/64 and is the son of Donald and Ernestine Williams of Freedom, Pa.

84 CLINT WILSON* TE SR/6-3/225 Pahokee, Fla.

Although he missed all of last season with a broken foot, Wilson will no doubt be an integral part of the Pitt offense this season . . . when healthy, a player worthy of all-star consideration . . . broke his foot during fall camp and received a medical redshirt . . . Wilson showed that he could block as well as catch in '83 . . . has added some weight and strength to become a better blocker . . . "Clint was on his way to having an excellent season last year when he broke his foot," says Coach Fazio. "He is bigger and stronger now, and we expect him to pick up where he left off in '83. He has very good hands, and he has improved his blocking tremendously." . . . had a good spring until the last week when his foot began bothering him . . . he skipped the last part of spring drills to rest his foot and is expected to be at full strength this fall . . . "Clint got better and better as the spring went on," says Coach Stobart. "Hopefully, he will pick up where he left off. He is a top-flight football player." . . . "The sky's the limit for Clint," says Coach Montgomery. "If he will play to the best of his ability on every snap and be all that he can be, then he will have a shot at professional football." . . . caught 21 passes for 216 yards and two touchdowns . . . caught a TD pass and recovered a fumble in the endzone in the Fiesta Bowl . . . became a starter in '82 when regular John Brown went down with a knee injury and missed the rest of the season . . . in '82, caught 12 passes for 102 yards and a touchdown . . . comes from the same hometown as former Pitt great Rickey Jackson and current Panther Walter Johnson . . . earned three football and two basketball letters at Pahokee High School (Coach Antoine Russell) . . . a Communications major . . . 1985 FRESHMEN RECRUITS

State Breakdown: Pennsylvania 9 (Western Pa. 6), New Jersey 7, Ohio 3, Texas 2, New York 2.

ROBERT BRADLEY, DB/5-10/185, Elizabeth (N.J.) High School. Played cornerback and quarterback . . . a three-year starter at cornerback . . . in '84 had 42 hits and four interceptions . . . had 20 interceptions in three years . . . high school coach Robert Torescl on Bradley: "Robert was the reason why we went 6-3. He's the guy who was throwing, running and scoring touchdowns. He's a very intelligent player. He's strong, and he comes up and hits people. Robert returned three interceptions for touchdowns, and it was just a case of him knowing when to break on the ball. He knows where he is on the field, and he knows how to position the other players. He was just like having another coach on the field. You won't find a finer young man. Robert's a lot like Rodney Carter, another one of our kids who is the starting tailback at Purdue. Rodney was a good student and another coach on the field. Robert is the same type of kid."

DEAN CALIGUIRE, Line/6-3/250, Montour High School/Pittsburgh. Member of The Press Finest 44 . . . Post-Gazette Fabulous 22 . . . All-State by both wire services . . . high school coach Bill Kriger on Caliguire: "Dean possesses good strength. He benches over 380 pounds on the bench press, and he runs very well for his size. Dean has excellent character on and off the field. He is one of the best Division I recruits that we have had here since Ted Kwalick, who graduated in '64-'65. He's one of the few players that we could have sent out any film from his senior year to college recruiters. He was simply the best tackle. He dominated both offensively and defensively. He played 10 good games last year, and he played 48 minutes a game. The play that sticks out in my mind was against Black Hawk. They ran an isolation play, and Dean came down inside and hit their tailback at the line, and it was perfect form on the tackle. He knocked the tailback a yard into the backfield and the kid just sat there. I had never seen a player come down and make such a perfect tackle at the line of scrimmage."

WILLIAM CHERPAK, Line/6-4/255, Steel Valley High School/Munhall, Pa. Member of The Press Finest 44 . . . Post-Gazette Fabulous 22 . . . made All-State teams of both wire services . . . Coaches All-America . . . high school coach George Novak on Cherpak: "Bill had a very successful career here at Steel Valley. He has great athletic ability. He could play basketball, baseball, golf, or tennis and be successful. He has very good speed for his size, and he is an intelligent player. He's an honor roll student and a three-year starter. He's the best lineman we've ever had here. He lives in the weight room and is a hard worker. He played both ways for us, and he was a star at both positions. He made some great plays during his career. Defensively, I can remember one time we moved him down over the center, and he literally picked the center up and carried him five yards into the backfield. Then he sacked the quarterback."

BRIAN DAVIS, RB/5-11/195, Washington (Pa.) High School. Parade All-American co-captain . . . high school coach Guy Montecalvo on Davis: "Definitely the most outstanding high school player I've ever been associated with. Brian combines so many attributes that you look for in a great back. He can run inside, and he is just elusive in the open field. He combines all those things. He can run tough inside because of his tremendous leg strength. And he is excellent in the open field because he has great speed and great vision. I just think he combines all the things you are looking for in a running back. He is also a fine receiver. He could have been a super wideout for us if he was a receiver. Brian was just as effective for us as a junior at fullback as he was as a senior at tailback. Brian had a few great games that stick out in my mind. As a sophomore against Beth Center he was involved in five touchdowns. He ran for three, caught one, and threw for another. As a junior in a game against Riverside he ran for 262 yards on 19 carries in three inches of snow." . . . rushed for 1,600 yards on 166 carries as a senior . . . high school career rushing yardage: 4,478, 10th best in Pennsylvania high school football history.

DAVID DiTOMMASO, Line/6-4/245, Monsignor Farrell High School/Staten Island, N.Y. First team All-State in New York . . . All-City . . . All-League . . . high school coach Ben Sarullo on DiTommaso: "Davis is top-notch. He's the best Division I prospect we've had and we've sent kids all over the country. We have a better weight and strength conditioning program now and he has benefited from this. He's one of the quickest kids we've ever had. His quickness and ability will carry him through his four years at Pitt. Because his personality is a fun-loving one, we were afraid that he wouldn't be mean enough. That wasn't the case. He has made steady progress, something we almost expected. Going into his senior year he could bench press over 350 pounds. His strength is incredible and he has perfect technique. He is a good athlete."

DARRIN GILLASPIE, WR/6-3/180, Wilmer Hutchins High School/Dallas, Tex. A two-year starter and a unanimous all-district selection as a junior and senior . . . a seven-foot high jumper in track and a member of sprint relay teams . . . high school coach Radford Taylor on Gillaspie: "Darrin hasn't been able to play spring ball the past two years because he was on the track team. He's a three sport letterman, and I think his best football is in front of him. His potential is unlimited. He has great speed, and he's a good blocker on the line of scrimmage and downfield. He has very good work habits. He has great speed and very good moves. He's a tremendous deep threat. Some people have a second gear. Darrin does, and he can put it away. He turned some people inside-out on the bootleg. He's deceptive because he's so tall and lanky, but he chews up a tremendous amount of turf when he strides."

CHRISTOPHER GOETZ, Line/6-4/270, St. Francis High School/Jackson Heights, N.Y. Voted outstanding offensive lineman in the Senior Bowl after playing defense most of the year . . . high school coach Vincent O'Connor on Goetz: "Chris was going to play both ways for us, but he hurt an ankle in an early season scrimmage, and I didn't want him to push off his ankle playing both ways. Chris is one of the few players in the last ten years in this league to start as a sophomore. And he was All-Catholic League as a junior and senior. When Chris was a junior we went undefeated and won the league title and the state championship. A lot of that had to do with Chris' defensive play. We were 6-2-1 last season, and I think that had to do with not being able to use Chris both ways. Chris overpowered the people he played against. He is a strong player, and he has a great team attitude and a great personal attitude. He's a goal-oriented person, and he was under a lot of pressure to go to other schools. But he was impressed with Pittsburgh, and he welcomed the opportunity to play there." . . . an All-America, All-East, All-State, All-League, All-City, and All-Queens performer . . . one of 13 New York City high school players honored at '84 Heisman Luncheon by Downtown Athletic Club.

BURT GROSSMAN, Line/6-5/250, Archbishop Carroll High School/Bala Cynwyd, Pa. First team AP and UPI All-State . . . Honorable mention All-America USA Today . . . All-Area Philadelphia Inquirer . . . All-City (Philadelphia) . . . had 87 tackles, 60 assists and 7 sacks his senior year . . . blocked 4 kicks . . . ran 40-yard dash in 4.7 seconds . . . shot put over 60 feet (2nd best in nation) . . . high school coach Kevin Clancy on Grossman: "Burt is real personable. He is easy to talk to. On the field, his greatest asset is his great quickness. He has the strength that other top recruits have, but he adds that quickness. He has the ability to get to the ball. That's why everybody in the country wanted him. He has a real good knack for analyzing opponents' plays. He has a great reaction toward the ball. I would say he's probably the most talented athlete we've ever had at our school in years." . . . Maxwell Club Award winner as Outstanding Defensive Player . . . an outstanding track and field performer as a shot putter . . . holds Philadelphia Catholic League record with a distance of 60-9.

MICHAEL HADLEY, DB/5-11/170, Woodrow Wilson High School/Camden, N.J. All-South Jersey . . . All-Group III . . . high school coach Joe Famille on Hadley: "Michael is a very exciting player. He's a big play player. He can really make things happen. I would guess that Pitt will play him somewhere where he can get his hands on the ball. He has come a long way in the area of physical skills. He's the type of player that can bust things open. I think that's what Pitt was looking for and that's why they were attracted to him. He ran the offense real well for us as our quarterback."

THOMAS HUEBNER, Line/6-6/227, North Hills High School/West View, Pa. Post-Gazette North Top 22 . . . News Record Top 22 Northern Area . . . had 26 catches for 450 yards as a receiver . . . ran 40-yard dash in 4.8 seconds . . . high school coach Jack McCurry on Huebner: "Thomas is a big kid who can run real well and catch well. He has only played organized football for one year, so his future is ahead of him. He was an excellent basketball player and we asked him to try out for football. He came out and played the tight end position as well as anyone who has ever played that position for us. He is still learning to play. If he reaches his potential, Pitt will have one heck of a player."

STEVEN HUGHES, QB/6-3/185, East Brunswick (N.J.) High School. As a senior completed 134 of 227 passes for 1,733 yards and 21 touchdowns to lead his team to a 10-1 record and the Central Jersey Group IV State Championship game . . . a two-year starter . . . career stats: 225 of 404 for 2,673 yards, 29 touchdowns, and 17 interceptions; high school coach Marcus Borden on Hughes: "Steve's strength is that he has a quick release, much like Dan Marino. As a matter of fact, he had a chance to work with Dan at a summer football camp. Steve can get the ball there quickly, and he knows how to work out of a jam. He stays in the pocket, and he will wait until the last second to get rid of the ball. We ran a lot of sprintout passes, but Steve is predominantly a dropback passer. He's a good all-around athlete. He ran for eight touchdowns last year, and he threw a no-hitter as a pitcher on the baseball team last year." . . . All-State, All-Conference, All-County . . . Middlesex County Player of the Year . . . honorable mention USA Today All-America.

ROMAN MATUSZ, Line/6-6/265, Seton Hall Prep/Newark, N.J. Led team to an 8-2 record . . . two-year starter . . . played both ways . . . made 68 tackles, broke up four passes, and recovered three fumbles . . . high school coach Tony Verducci on Matusz: "We ran our fullback over Roman's side in our wishbone offense, and the fullback gained over 1,000 yards. Roman was very important to our offense. I would compare his abilities to those of Fralic. He's a super blocker, and he has exceptionally quick feet and quick hands. He just knows how to block, and that's probably the hardest thing to teach a high school player. He's a tenacious blocker. He's glued to his man when he makes contact. Roman has great hip extension, drive, and follow through — the things you don't normally find in a high school player. He has very good speed for somebody his size, and he's grown an inch since football season was over."

JOHN MURRAY, WR/5-10/170, Steubenville (Oh.) High School. All-OVAC . . . All-State 2nd team . . . All-Eastern Buckeye League . . . led team to 13-0 record and Division 2 State Championship . . . placed second in three track events at the states (300 lows, long jump and 400 relay) . . . played quarterback as a junior . . . high school coach Reno Saccoccia on Murray: "John's a first-class person. When it came down to the nitty-gritty, we went to him. In the City Championship, we were trailing 7-6 with time running out. We ran nine plays and seven were passes to John. He caught six of the seven, including the TD with nine seconds to go. He has only been at the flanker position for one year, but he has made excellent strides. He is a heck of a kid."

JEROME OLSAVSKY, LB/6-2/210, Youngstown (Oh.) High School. A four-year starter . . . played both ways as a junior and senior . . . won the Mike DeNiro Award as the top defensive lineman in the city . . . two-time All-City selection . . . started 30 consecutive games . . . averaged eight solo tackles and 10 assists per game, had eight sacks, and caused six fumbles while recovering two . . . high school coach Ed Matey on Olsavsky: "Jerry is a great kid and a bluechip ballplayer. He's aggressive and intelligent, and he's always around the ball. I'm sure that he will be a real asset to Pittsburgh's program." . . . John Kovach of The Youngstown Vindicator: "He ranks among the best linebackers I've seen. I have seen him get blocked out on one side of the field and then make the tackle on the other side of the field. And the guy he hits goes backwards. He's a hard-hitting, aggressive player. He made 60-70 percent of the tackles for his team. He's a team leader, and, in my opinion, the best linebacker in the area."

EUGENE NAPOLEON, RB/5-11/183, St. Joseph's High School/Jersey City, N.J. Gained 3,605 yards in three seasons, scoring 36 TDs . . . has run 40 yard dash in 4.5 seconds . . . named to three All-American teams: National Catholic, Adidas and Scholastic Coach . . . rated top running back in New Jersey and No. 3 on East Coast by Tom Lemming's All-East prep report . . . high school coach Frank Gargiulo on Napoleon: "He's a very sensitive and highly motivated person. He's a great athlete and a good person. I think he'll fit in well at Pittsburgh. He's got a lot of common sense. You can talk to him. As far as athletics are concerned, he's got a lot of potential. Now I said potential. He's got to be developed. He's got to get bigger and stronger. But, if things are right, he can certainly help Pitt's program." . . . Recap Magazine Northwest Blue Chip All-America team.

MARK PEARCE, Line/6-5/245, O.D. Wyatt High School/Fort Worth, Tex. Two-technique tackle . . . basically a defensive player, although played offense in goal-line situations . . . Had 91 tackles and 7 sacks . . . Named All-District . . . All-Metro (Dallas-Fort Worth) . . . All-Tarrant County . . . one of Star Telegram's Top 100 recruits in Texas . . . high school coach Willie Criss on Pearce: "Mark was an outstanding defensive player for us. He was All-District and All-County as a defensive tackle. His strength and his quickness are his biggest assets. Mark had several outstanding defensive games. He always seemed to make the big defensive play when we needed it. We only gave up one drive all year that was over 50 yards. He played offensively as a junior, but we only used him on offense in short-yardage situations last season. He is an outstanding student and a great young man. He was impressed with Pittsburgh and the coaching staff."

CHRISTOPHER ROSS, DB/6-0/175, Ambridge High School/Baden, Pa. Played slotback and strong safety . . . gained 455 yards rushing on 16 carries . . . had five interceptions and recovered three fumbles . . . high school coach Frank Antonini on Ross: "Chris was probably the most consistent defensive player we had. He has an excellent presence of mind on the field, and he is able to read offenses well. I think he will make a great free safety. He has a nose for the football. He was a three-year starter for us, and he's still a young kid. I don't think he has reached his full peak as a player yet. He's such a good athlete that if our quarterback hadn't come through for us, Chris could've played quarterback. He had seven kids sign with major colleges, and Chris was probably the most talented of those seven. He's 6-1 now, and if he grows a couple more inches, he could play tight end."

ANTHONY SIRAGUSA, Line/6-5/240, David Brearley High School/Kenilworth, N.J. First team All-State All-Groups in New Jersey . . . All-County . . . All-Conference . . . All-American Honorable Mention USA Today . . . as a senior had 92 tackles, 28 assists, 11 sacks, 5 blocked passes . . . also punted carrying a 39-yard average . . . ran the ball six times out of the punt formation for six first downs (74 total yards) . . . kicked extra points, converting 15 of 18 . . . high school coach Robert Taylor on Siragusa: "Anthony is one of the finest young men we have ever had in our school. He is very charismatic and he has great potential as an athlete. He's going to be a leader in the Pitt program just as he was in our program. We're very happy he chose Pitt. We know he's the type of person you need to maintain the high level of standards there. Anthony is a unique, high-calibre athlete."

CARNEL SMITH, LB/6-3/217, Toledo (Oh.) Scott High School. Was the team's leading tackler . . . All-City as a defensive tackle and as an offensive tackle . . . All-District . . . All-State . . . captain of the basketball team . . . high school coach Johnny Hutton on Smith: "He is respected as one of the most outstanding men in town. He was vice-president of the junior class. Just an all-around excellent young man. As for his play on the football field, there's just one word: awesome. He was the best defensive tackle I saw on the football field the last two years. Regardless of who we were playing, Carnel dominated. He will probably be one of the best linemen to ever come out of the school. If there was one kid on the team we couldn't play without, it was Carnel. He was a co-captain. I have a heck of a lot of respect for Carnel. I think the people of Pittsburgh will be proud of him. He is a good student and well-mannered."

MARK STEPNOSKI, Line/6-3/245, Erie (Pa.) Cathedral Prep. Parade All-American . . . USA Today All-American . . . 4.0 high school grade point average . . . First team All-State . . . National Honor Society . . . high school coach Mina George on Stepnoski: "Mark has made several All-America teams, and he basically has no weaknesses as a player. He has been superb in the weight room and he runs a 4.8 40-yard dash. He is an "A" student, and he has the ability to pick up things quickly. Mark is a good, solid recruit, and he feels that when he learns the Pitt system he will be a much better all-around player."

DAVID TANCZOS, TE/6-3/215, Bethlehem (Pa.) Catholic. Three-sports athlete (basketball and baseball) in high school . . . All-City . . . All-Conference . . . played in LARC Football Classic . . . National Honor Society member . . . While a starter, team went 21-5-1 . . . has a brother (Dan) that went to Notre Dame two years ago . . . high school assistant coach Rick Johnson on Tanczos: "Scholastically, David is ranked No. 6 in his class. He's very likeable and very coachable. Athletically, he is one of the best athletes we've had here in a while. He's fast for his size and he possesses good hands. In the two years I was around him, he only dropped one pass, at most, that he should have caught. He made some catches that you would think uncatchable."

REGINALD WILLIAMS, WR/6-2/190, Beaver Falls (Pa.) High School. Won four letters in football, basketball and track during high school career . . . First team All-State . . . Post-Gazette Fabulous 22 . . . played in Fabulous 44 Pennsylvania/Ohio All-Star game . . . once caught three touchdowns in a quarter . . . high school coach Robert Blythe on Williams: "Reggie had the best attitude on our ballclub. He was a true team leader, and the rest of the players looked up to him. Reggie was a four-year letterman in three sports. He played running back for two years and then went to receiver as a senior. His speed and hands are going to be a great asset to Pitt. Reggie made the best catch I had ever seen in my 16 years of coaching. Against Center he was fully outstretched on a halfback pass and he barely missed hitting the goalpost." . . . had 31 receptions for 667 yards and 11 touchdowns as a senior . . . also returned three punts for touchdowns.

DARREL WOODS, DE/6-3/220, Elizabeth High School/Newark, N.J. Leading tackler on the team with 85 hits, three caused fumbles and nine sacks . . . high school coach Robert Torescl on Woods: "I've never seen Tony Woods play, but people tell me that Darrel compares favorably with him. Darrel just caused havoc on the field. He is the hardest hitter I've ever seen, and he has the quickest feet I've ever seen. He's like a cat — he's all over the field. There have been times when he was rushing the quarterback, and the quarterback got the ball off, and Darrel would be there when the ball came down. He's 6-3, 220, and he has been timed at 4.5 in the forty. Darrel is a Lawrence Taylor-type player. He catches people from behind. He was a two-year starter for us, and he played some center offensively. Darrel can make a mistake and make up for it. He's hit some people that I didn't think would get up."

"I spent every summer in Pittsburgh. I love the city. I hated to get away from it. I went home one summer and was going to stay three weeks, but after 10 days I came back to Pittsburgh. You go home and find there's nothing there. Everything is in Pittsburgh. The four years that put feeling in my life were up there."

—Hugh Green
Tampa Bay Buccaneers

"Pitt is one of the few places where you can get the finest education and play for a winner. I was there five years and went to a different bowl game every year. The city of Pittsburgh also provides you with many opportunities aside from school and football."

—Jimbo Covert
Chicago Bears

"I thought that it would be a mistake to leave Pittsburgh when I could get everything that a student-athlete could want at Pitt. I was also very impressed with the relationships the players had with each other and with the coaches. The chance to play for the National Championship every year was also a factor."

—Bill Fralic
Atlanta Falcons

"Many of our players go on to play professional football, while others choose to pursue careers in a wide range of other professions.

The experience you gain as a Pitt student-athlete can lead to many opportunities in the future."

—Foge Fazio
Pitt Head Coach

BRIGHAM YOUNG

BRIGHAM YOUNG 20 — PITT 14

PITTSBURGH, PA (September 1) — The Panthers were ranked third in the Associated Press preseason football poll going into the contest with Brigham Young. But the Pitt offense, what appeared to be the Panther strong point in the summer drills, never mounted a serious drive against the Cougars. The defense was responsible for both Pitt scores. Free safety Bill Callahan intercepted a BYU pass and raced 78 yards for the Panthers' first touchdown of the '84 season. Then in the third quarter, Pitt took a 14-3 lead when fullback Marc Bailey went charging through the hole created by Bill Fralic into the endzone. The Panthers held a 14-12 lead with just 1:37 left in the game when BYU quarterback Robbie Bosco hit Adam Haysbert with a 50-yard scoring strike.

OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA 42 — PITT 10

PITTSBURGH, PA (September 15) — OU downed the Panthers 42-10 on the strength of Sooner running back Lydell Carr's 137 yards on the ground and quarterback Danny Bradley's 145 yards through the air.

The Panthers scored first on Mark Brasco's 37-yard field goal but the Sooners came back to grab a 21-3 lead at the half. John Congemi then hit Bill Wallace with a 25-yard touchdown pass in the third quarter to draw the Panthers closer. The fourth quarter belonged to Oklahoma as the Sooners racked up 21 points and forced the Panthers out of their game plan and into catch-up football. Congemi finished the day 11 of 27 for 149 yards and had to leave the contest in the fourth quarter with a severely sprained ankle.

TEMPLE

TEMPLE 13 — PITT 12

PHILADELPHIA, PA (September 22) — A brilliant day by Pitt freshman tailback Charles Gladman was erased by a last-second field goal as the Temple Owls gave the Panthers their third straight loss, 13-12. Gladman rushed for 118 yards on 30 carries, but Temple's Jim Cooper was the story of the game. Cooper hit his second field goal of the second half with just 26 seconds left in the game for the victory. Cooper's first field goal was a boot of 51 yards. The Panthers fell behind in the first quarter 7-0 but drew closer on Mark Brasco's field goals of 43 and 32 yards. At the half, Pitt led 12-7 after quarterback John Cummings, starting in the place of injured John Congemi, hit Bill Wallace with a 14-yard scoring strike. When Pitt missed the two-point conversion, the stage was set for Cooper's second-half heroics.

WEST VIRGINIA

WEST VIRGINIA 28 — PITT 10

PITTSBURGH, PA (September 29) — Lack of offense and injuries continued to plague the Panthers against rival West Virginia. Freshman Charles Gladman raced around right end for 35 yards to set up his two-yard touchdown plunge on Pitt's opening drive. Gladman's first touchdown of his career capped a nine-play, 78-yard drive. The Panthers' only other score came in the third period when freshman kicker Mark Brasco tied a Pitt record for the longest field goal converted. Brasco's 52-yard field goal tied a Pitt record held by Fred Cox (1961) and Carson Long (1974). West Virginia held a 14-7 lead at the half, but the game was broken open in the third period when WVU's Willie Drewrey returned a punt for 74 yards and six points.

EAST CAROLINA
GAME 5

PITT 17 — EAST CAROLINA 10

PITTSBURGH, PA (October 6) — The Panthers won their first game of the season against East Carolina, 17-10, when quarterback John Congemi threw for two touchdowns and Craig Heyward rushed for 110 yards. The contest marked the first time in the season that Congemi remained injury-free the entire game. The junior quarterback responded with 177 yards through the air on 13 completions. Before the ECU game, Heyward had only carried the ball 11 times for 39 yards. However, the freshman tailback emerged as an important part of the Pitt offense when he racked up 110 yards on 17 carries against the Pirates. East Carolina rallied for 10 second-half points, but the Pitt defense hung on to give the Panthers their first mark in the win column.

"Gamecocks"

SOUTH CAROLINA 45 — PITT 21

COLUMBIA, SC (October 13) — The South Carolina Gamecocks brought out the offensive hardware in front of 73,100 fans and put together a 45-21 victory over Pitt. The Panther defense allowed the hosts to roll up 443 total yards and six touchdowns. But Pitt stayed close most of the game. On the strength of a 60-yard touchdown pass from Chris Jelic to Chuck Scales and a Craig Heyward touchdown plunge, the Panthers trailed just 21-14 at the half. Heyward's five-yard run early in the fourth quarter closed the USC lead to 28-21. But the Gamecocks got a 43-yard TD from Thomas Dendy, a 49-yard field goal from Scott Hagler and a 23-yard touchdown pass from Allen Mitchell to Danny Smith to put the game away.

GAME 7

MIAMI 27 — PITT 7

MIAMI, FL (October 20) — Led by All-American sophomore quarterback Bernie Kosar, Miami scored in each of the four quarters and stashed a 27-7 victory. The Pitt offense, meanwhile, had problems. The Panther rushing attack was limited to just 65 yards. Only 11 Pitt first downs were recorded. In fact, the Hurricanes more than doubled the Panther offensive output: 454-223. Kosar got off to a fast start. He nailed wide receiver Stanley Shakespeare with a first quarter, 16-yard TD. The 'Canes added a field goal in the second period, two TDs in the third quarter and another three-pointer in the final stanza. Pitt's lone score came at the 2:45 mark in the fourth period on a Chris Jelic 13-yard strike to Darnell Stone. Kosar finished the day completing 29 of 42 passes for 351 yards. Jelic hit 17 of 34 for 170 yards.

NAVY
GAME 8

PITT 28 — NAVY 28

PITTSBURGH, PA (October 27) — In a season full of disappointments for the Panthers, the Navy game was probably the biggest setback. Pitt was leading by 14 points with 90 seconds remaining in the contest when the Middies struck back for two scores. Navy missed the extra point on a touchdown scored with 1:26 left on the clock. Then, after a successful on-side kick, Navy marched 46 yards in just 35 seconds for a score and the two-point conversion that kept the Panthers out of the win column once again. Craig Heyward had his biggest day of the year with 140 yards on 30 carries. The last 90 seconds of the game were full of excitement with a fumble, two interceptions, two on-side kicks and 19 passes attempted . . . and, in the end, the score was even.

SYRACUSE

SYRACUSE 13 — PITT 7

SYRACUSE, NY (November 3) — In front of 46,489 fans at the Carrier Dome, the Panther offense again stalled and gave way to a 13-7 defeat. It was the Orange's first victory over Pitt since 1972. The frustrating aspect for the visitors was that they outgained Syracuse in total yards by a 307-267 margin. The Panthers rolled up more first downs. They got off more offensive plays. They more than tripled the Syracuse passing numbers. But, still, they lost. Don McAulay put the hosts ahead in the first quarter with a 45-yard field goal. Orangeman QB Todd Norley hit tight end Marty Chalk in the second quarter to stretch the lead to 10-0. Another McAulay boot, this time from 41 yards, put Syracuse up 13-0 in the third period. Pitt made a surge in the last quarter, but fell short. The Panthers went 92 yards in seven plays and scored on a John Congemi keeper. In the waning moments, Pitt reached the Syracuse 20-yard line. But time ran out.

TULANE

GAME 10

PITT 21 — TULANE 10

PITTSBURGH, PA (November 10) — Pitt played its best football of the season . . . to that point . . . in the first half of the Tulane game. Quarterback John Congemi ran for one touchdown and then connected with Bill Wallace for two more scores to defeat the Green Wave 21-10. The Panthers jumped out to a 21-3 halftime lead, then held on for the win. In his last appearance at Pitt Stadium, All-America Bill Fralic was honored at halftime by having his jersey retired. All of the Panthers scoring in the contest came in the last six minutes of the half. Congemi capped off a 14-play, 80-yard drive by diving into the endzone from one-yard out for the Panthers' first score. Then the junior quarterback hooked up with Wallace twice in two minutes for touchdowns.

PENN STATE

PITT 31 — PENN STATE 11

GAME 11

STATE COLLEGE, PA (November 24) — Both offensively and defensively . . . it finally came together for the Pitt Panthers. In the battle of Pennsylvania football, Pitt downed Penn State, 31-11. Craig Heyward fumbled the opening kickoff on the ten-yard line, but the Panther defense held the Lions to just a field goal. The only other Lion score was a 37-yard touchdown pass on a broken play. For the offensive, the Bill Wallace and John Congemi combination hooked up for the final time with Wallace grabbing touchdown passes of 29 and 30 yards. Congemi also hit Chuck Scales with a 23-yard touchdown pass and the junior quarterback finished the contest with 16 completions on 22 attempts for 204 yards.

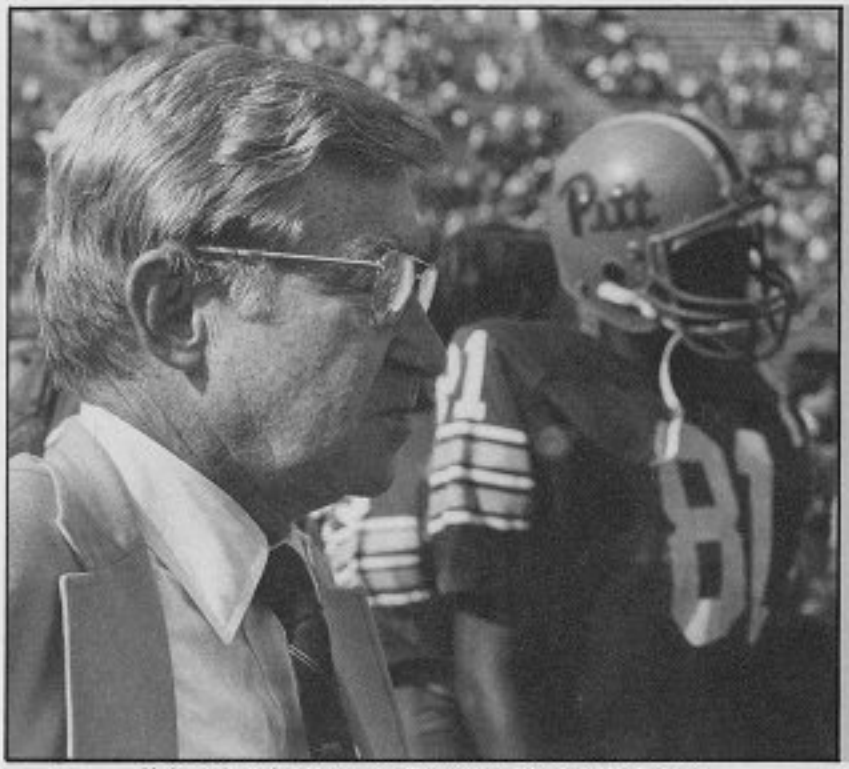
THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH



University of Pittsburgh President Wesley W. Posvar

The University of Pittsburgh in Oakland

Bordering the community of Oakland in the eastern section of the city, the University of Pittsburgh has grown to new heights both in the academic world and on the athletic field as it approaches its bicentennial in 1987.

Under the leadership of Wesley Wentz Posvar, who became the University's 15th chancellor in 1967, Pitt has experienced a period of extraordinary growth. Through teaching and research the University meets a local, national and international public-service mission. Several units of the University provide expertise to government agencies, citizens' groups, and others concerned with solving societal problems.

While enrollment increased during the 1970s, University facilities expanded. The Pittsburgh campus consists of 54 buildings on 125 acres of land, at the center of which is the Cathedral of Learning, a historic landmark and, at 42 stories, the tallest educational building in the country. Other structural highlights on the campus include the award-winning Chemistry Building and Hillman Library, the latter housing more than 3,700,000 volumes.

The University also extends to other sections of Western Pennsylvania with its four regional campuses in Greensburg, Johnstown, Bradford and Titusville. The Pittsburgh campus is a complex of 16 schools, 97 departments and 23 special centers.

The University has continued to increase in national and international stature, annually attracting more than $60 million in sponsored research and programs. In 1974 Pitt was elected to membership in the Association of American Universities, a select organization of the nation's most respected graduate and research programs.

Pitt has been the site of many scientific achievements. Jonas Salk in 1953 developed and tested the Salk polio vaccine; Klaus Hoffmann synthesized the hormone ACTH in 1961; in 1964 Panayotis Katsoyannis developed synthetic insulin. In 1975 Pitt anthropologist James Adovasio began an archaeological dig just south of Pittsburgh, which is the oldest verified site of continuous human occupation in the Western Hemisphere. William Cassidy, who in 1977 discovered the largest meteorite ever found in Antarctica, was the first scientist to predict the location of meteors. Charles Brinton's research team in 1977 developed vaccines against three major bacterial diseases: gonorrhea, diarrhea, and Pseudomonas aeruginosa infection.

The University of Pittsburgh's six Schools of the Health Sciences have affiliations with the corporate members of the University Health Center of Pittsburgh, which was formed in 1965. The members include five major hospitals adjacent to the University. The University's Schools of the Health Sciences and the University Health Center of Pittsburgh form one of the outstanding centers in the country for high quality patient care through health education, research, and services.

At the University of Pittsburgh, there is an education to be had outside as well as inside the classroom. A New York sports writer once said there are more fascinating characters per square inch in Oakland than any other community he had ever visited in his work. He is among those who fondly recall the games at Forbes Field and those who have grown up with football games at Pitt Stadium.

Sports heroes have always enjoyed a special prominence in Oakland. Pitt, the Pirates, and the Steelers are just some of the teams that have turned Oakland upside down on so many occasions.

There is a special pride in Pittsburgh these days, and the University of Pittsburgh and Oakland have contributed to that feeling.

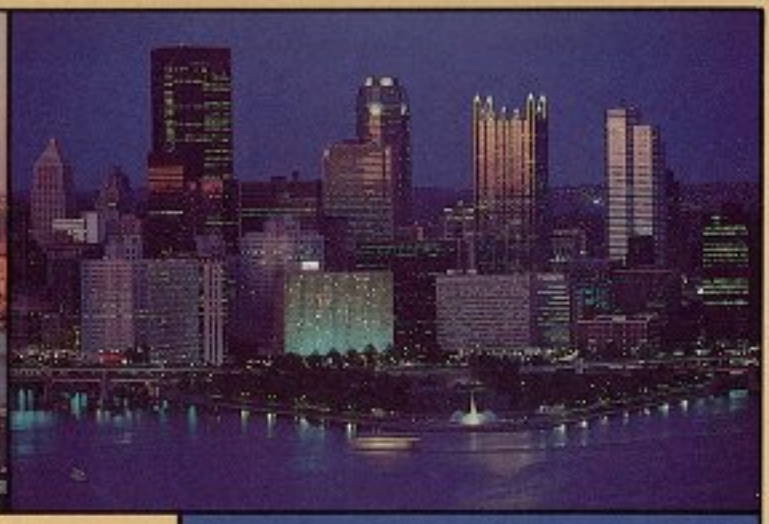
THIS IS PITTSBURGH



We're No.1

It was a notion that many native and "adopted" Pittsburghers knew in their hearts was true but rarely mentioned to friends living outside the area to avoid charges of boosterism or provincialism.

We're talking about pride in the Pittsburgh area. A place that can claim first-rate educational facilities and medical care . . . outstanding cultural events . . . a feeling of safety when walking downtown streets after dark . . . reasonable housing costs . . . bearable commuting times . . . competitive and often championship sports teams. Add it all up and Pittsburgh comes out as a pretty nice place to live — or to go to college.

Well, the days of holding back are over. We're shouting praises from the rooftops now. Or from the top of the Cathedral of Learning. Rand McNally's Places Rated Almanac recently named Pittsburgh as the best place to live in the United States. A total of 329 metropolitan areas were evaluated in the four-year study. And we came out No. 1. Now if we can reclaim our title as the City of Champions . . .

DR. WESLEY W. POSVAR, PRESIDENT

"We continue to want championship teams and we are going to have them," University of Pittsburgh President Wesley Posvar remarked to the Board of Trustees this year. The message was elaborated in the milestone University Plan recently developed to guide the institution into the next century. "Intercollegiate Athletics," Dr. Posvar wrote, "comprises an element that is key to development of the wider athletic dimension ... Our Department of Athletics is achieving a sound combination of commitment to academic success by the student-athlete, measured by grades and graduation, and successful performance in competition."

Dr. Posvar became Chancellor in 1967, and his title was changed to President in 1984.

Dr. Posvar demonstrated in his own college career that success in athletics can complement high academic attainment. He was a college athlete at the United States Military Academy at West Point (Class of '46), where he also graduated first in his class, achieving one of the Academy's all-time highest academic records. Winning a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford, he earned master's degrees there in philosophy, politics and economics. At Harvard he earned an M.S. in public administration and a Ph.D. in political science.

As an Air Force pilot Dr. Posvar conducted test flights on some of the earliest jets, and later flew in the Berlin airlift. He served on the strategic planning staff at the Pentagon and later headed the Political Science Department and the Social Sciences Division at the Air Force Academy. Dr. Posvar was named one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men in the United States by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1959.

"A great University," President Posvar has emphasized, "doesn't just contribute to the cultural life or athletic scene of a city, it is also a major force in the economic vitality of its regions." Posvar was instrumental in negotiating the $100 million Gulf/Chevron gift to Pitt, through which the 54-building Gulf research facility will become a center of research, development and high tech production.

Mrs. Posvar sings professionally as Mildred Miller, a mezzo-soprano who is internationally acclaimed as a recording artist and Lieder singer and who was a principal artist for twenty-three years at the Metropolitan Opera. An active civic leader, she is founder and Artistic Director of the Pittsburgh Opera Theater.

The Posvars have three childen: Wesley, Marina, and Lisa.

DR. EDWARD E. BOZIK, DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Dr. Edward E. Bozik, a man with broad management and administrative experience in both athletics and academics, became the Director of Athletics at the University of Pittsburgh on September 1, 1982.

In his past three years as athletics director, Dr. Bozik has responded to the initial guidance provided by President Wesley Posvar. Improved academic performances of all student athletes was the first priority, and the resources and effort dedicated to that area have paid substantial dividends. The football and men's basketball teams continued to build upon past successes, and other varsity sports for men and women began the advance to championship calibre with Big East Championships in women's volleyball in 1982 and 1984, and in men's and women's swimming in 1983, 1984, and 1985. Pitt's track and field team gained new respect when NCAA champion Roger Kingdom won the 110-meter high hurdles gold medal at the 1984 Olympics.

Fundraising has continued to grow during Dr. Bozik's tenure and substantial improvements in the athletics facilities have been completed, including construction of a new athletics administration building in Pitt Stadium; restoration and resurfacing of the Stadium; continued improvements in Fitzgerald Field House, including new offices and a players lounge; and a new grass practice field for football and soccer.

On the national scene, Dr. Bozik has been active as a member of the NCAA Executive Committee, NCAA Television Committee, and as a member of the Board of Directors of the College Football Association.

Dr. Bozik is a native of Donora, Pa., a town well-known for the many great athletes and high school teams it has produced. A 1946 graduate of Donora High School, he received his B.S. from California University of Pennsylvania in 1953 and later earned his Ph.D. in Political Science from Georgetown University.

The strong commitment to education runs throughout the Bozik family. Dr. Bozik's wife, JoAn, a native of California, Pa., holds a Master's Degree in speech pathology and deaf education and was awarded a Ph.D. in education and developmental psychology from Pitt this year.

The Bozik children are also continuing the educational commitment. Daughter Peggy Jo holds undergraduate music and psychology degrees from Pitt and also is a graduate of the Pitt Law School. Son Michael, a Notre Dame graduate, is a third year student at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine. Son Tim, another Notre Dame graduate, is employed by Prentice-Hall.

Dr. Bozik's mother, Mrs. Ann Bozik, retired several years ago from her duties at the Scotland, Pennsylvania, School for Veterans' Children.

THE PITT GOLDEN PANTHERS

The Pitt Golden Panthers are the outside financial supporters of Pitt's Athletic Programs. The primary objective of the Pitt Golden Panthers is to help Pitt sustain prominence in athletics. During the short span of 13 years, the Golden Panthers Organization has grown from a handful of members to over 6,000 to date. The Pitt Golden Panthers have contributed over $5 million to the program during this time.

In addition to raising funds for athletics, the Pitt Golden Panthers also promote Pitt throughout the area, creating chapters within Pennsylvania — currently 15 chapters — help with recruiting, season ticket sales, and in general, promote Pitt.

All contributors to the Golden Panthers receive donor credit in the University's annual Giving Fund and its various giving clubs.

DEPARTMENTAL SUPPORT SERVICES

ALEX KRAMER Administrative Assistant

As Administrative Assistant, Alex Kramer coordinates many Athletic Department activities.

Alex and his family have always been big Pitt fans, even though Alex was born and raised on the Bluff, when Duquesne was a national power in the 1930's. Alex recalls his father taking him to the B&O Railroad Station to meet the 1937 National Championship team after its 10-0 win over Duke.

At the University of Pittsburgh, Kramer was a football manager from 1948-51 and during his tenure, served four different coaches: Mike Milligan, John Chickerneo, Len Casanova and Captain Tom Hamilton. He was manager of the 1950 freshman team, a team that was the first frosh team to go undefeated.

As an undergraduate at Pitt, Alex roomed with Joe Schmidt, the former Panther great and pro football coach, who has been inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Alex joined the Pitt staff in July of 1978 to serve as Administrative Assistant. This topped a long-time association in which Alex was active in alumni and Golden Panthers affairs.

Prior to joining the Pitt staff, Alex was director of curriculum in the Moon Area School District. He had been with the Moon Area Schools since 1956.

Coach Fazio said, "Alex is always very organized, very loyal, and a Pitt alumnus who takes his job very, very seriously. Alex is a person that the department cannot get along without."

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 7/8/79. Hometown: Pittsburgh, Pa. Alma Mater: Pitt '52-M.A. at Pitt '61. Married to the former Betty McCormick and father of Charles (27) and Michele (23).

CHARLES "BUDDY" MORRIS Weight Training Coordinator

Charles "Buddy" Morris begins his sixth year on the Pitt staff as Weight Training Coordinator. Morris has established and implemented a strength, flexibility and conditioning program for Pitt athletes.

A native of Pittsburgh, Morris attended South Park High School before receiving a track scholarship at Indiana State (Terre Haute) but left there and came to Pitt after his freshman season. He was a member of the Panther track squad under Coach Mike Agostinella. He is a 1980 graduate of Pitt.

Coach Foge Fazio and Coach Joe Moore recognize Morris's ability.

Coach Fazio said, "Buddy does an outstanding job. He has gained a tremendous amount of experience. His reputation as being one of the top weight and strength coaches in the United States is growing and growing."

"He's been the difference in our kids," says Coach Moore. "They come in here with bad bodies and he just changes them.

"There's a direct correlation between the time spent in the weight room and playing time — a 100 percent correlation. My kids are either in the weight room or they don't play. There's no conversation. Buddy's completely in charge."

Morris has found that the key to motivating the players is working alongside them.

"You have to look the part to sell the product," he said. "It takes hard work and a lot of time to develop your body properly. Occasional lifting doesn't work for the players' benefit."

Personal Information: Hometown: South Park, Pa. Alma Mater: Pitt '80. Married to former Pitt high jumper Karen Krichko.

BOB LaCIVITA Recruiting Coordinator

As Recruiting Coordinator, Bob LaCivita coordinates the efforts of the coaches in gathering information about recruits, evaluating this information, and making decisions about the scholarships that are offered. His efforts also involve the organization of official and unofficial recruiting visits.

"The skills involved with this job are organizational and communicational," says the East McKeesport native, a graduate of Serra Catholic High School and Indiana University of Pennsylvania.

"You must be able to manage large quantities of information, communicate well with people, and market the University," says LaCivita. "Actually, I am very fortunate to be part of a winning program. We have an outstanding, hardworking staff."

Before becoming Recruiting Coordinator, LaCivita worked with the Student Health Service where he was able to come in contact with many of the players and coaches. He has also hosted and produced educational programming for cable television. His knowledge of Pitt football, plus his managerial capabilities — which are demonstrated by a doctorate in higher education and administration — enabled him to step into the position two years ago.

LaCivita has an idea of what it takes to be a quality athlete, having played offensive guard on IUP's 1968 Boardwalk Bowl Team. He also owns a brown belt in karate and has participated in kick boxing.

Personal Information: Date of Birth: 1/14/50. Hometown: East McKeesport, Pa. Alma Mater: Indiana University of Pennsylvania '71, undergraduate; Master's Degree from the University of Pittsburgh in 1977; Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Pittsburgh in 1984. LaCivita is single.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

Paul Yuna

Dave Pistolesi

Lloyd Weston

Heavy demands, both on and off the field, are placed upon all the student-athletes at the University of Pittsburgh. As a student, each member of the football team must take a full schedule of classes, while at the same time practicing, travelling, and competing in the sport.

Because of the University's commitment to both athletic and academic excellence, the Office of Support Services for Student Athletes was established in 1976 to assist Pitt athletes in making progress toward their degree and achieving academic and personal goals. Today, this service is considered a model of its kind with a wide range of support, which begins with an orientation to the University, its rules and regulations, campus life, and support services. The Office of Support Services offers academic advising, tutoring, the strengthening of learning skills and study habits, and personal and career counseling. Not only is the progress of each athlete monitored, but classroom performance is also monitored, allowing the instructors the opportunity to express the student-athlete's needs in his/her class.

The Support Service staff includes two former Pitt football players: Paul Yuna, the Director who is currently pursuing a Ph.D., and Dr. Lloyd Weston, a former football All-America who is responsible for academic and personal counseling. Assisting them in supporting the student-athletes are Dave Pistolesi, the tutorial coordinator; Ruth Davis, the learning skills specialist; two part-time academic advisors: Darlene Cridlin and Dave Hockabout; and Marette Simpson, the coordinator of the daily office functions. All are committed to assisting Pitt's student-athletes in achieving their goals.

MEDICAL STAFF

The Panthers receive medical care provided by the University Division of Sports Medicine which sponsors regular sports medicine clinics at Pitt Stadium where Pitt varsity athletes are examined and treated. The opening of a new and enlarged clinic area with expanded x-ray facilities is anticipated in the near future.

Dr. Richard L. Ray serves as team physician and orthopaedic surgeon and is assisted by Dr. Freddie Fu. Dr. H. Lee Dameshek, Dr. Joe Maroon, Dr. Joe Imbriglia, and Dr. Paul Nelson provide medical consultation for the Panther athletes. In addition, a staff of consulting specialists is available at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine to assist in providing top quality medical treatment to more than 500 male and female varsity athletes. Care is provided at Presbyterian-University Hospital.

Prior to any practices or competition, each varsity athlete receives a comprehensive physical examination. The physical well-being of the athletes is monitored during the period of competition and training. Effort is made to provide not only treatment for injury and illness that may occur during the season but also preventive measures which will result in participation as safe as possible.

To achieve these goals, the Division of Sports Medicine boasts a highly qualified staff of certified trainers. Francis Feld, who served as the Assistant Football Trainer from 1978-1982, is the Head Football Trainer. Dr. David Perrin is Head Athletic Trainer and coordinator of the athletic training education curriculum. Rex Call, who joined the staff in 1983, is the Assistant Football Trainer.

The University of Pittsburgh offers an N.A.T.A. approved undergraduate curriculum designed to prepare students for the certification examination. This program was established in 1975 and is offered through the School of Education, Program in Health, Physical and Recreation Education.

DR. RICHARD RAY Team Physician

Dr. Richard Ray joined the Pitt athletic staff as the team physician and orthopaedic surgeon in 1979.

He received his undergraduate degree from Kenyon College and his graduate degree from the University of Pittsburgh. His internship and residency were served at Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke Medical Center in Chicago and the University of Pittsburgh. He studied under a Peabody Fellowship at Massachusetts General Hospital in 1977-78.

He served as a Lt. Commander and Chief of Orthopaedics at the U.S. Naval Regional Medical Center in Yokosuka, Japan, from 1974-76 and also at the Naval Submarine Medical Center (Groton, Conn.) in 1976-77.

He is currently on the staff of Presbyterian-University Hospital, Allegheny General Hospital and Children's Hospital. He is a Clinical Assistant Professor of Orthopaedic Surgery at Pitt and Chairman of the medical committee for the Allegheny County Special Olympics. Dr. Ray is a member of the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, the Orthopaedic Research Society, and the American College of Sports Medicine.

DR. DAVE PERRIN Head Athletic Trainer

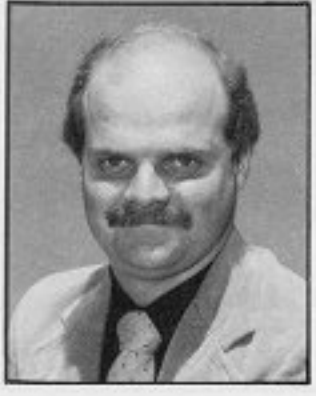
Dr. Dave Perrin joined the Pitt staff in 1977 and currently coordinates the athletic training services for all Pitt sports, its six faculty athletic trainers and twenty-five student athletic trainers.

Dr. Perrin received his undergraduate degree from Castleton State College (Vermont) and his Master's Degree from Indiana State University. He recently completed his Ph.D. in Exercise Physiology at Pitt.

In addition to his responsibilities as Head Athletic Trainer, Dr. Perrin is an Assistant Professor in the Program of Health and Physical Education where he directs the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) approved undergraduate athletic training curriculum.

He is professionally active on the state and national levels, having directed and lectured at a number of sports medicine symposia as well as currently serving on the Professional Education Committee of the Pennsylvania Athletic Trainers Society and the National Athletic Trainers Association.

A native of Springfield, Vermont, Dr. Perrin resides in Swissvale and is single.



FRANCIS FELD Head Football Trainer

Francis Feld joined the Pitt staff as an athletic trainer and clinical instructor in the Division of Sports Medicine in 1978, was promoted to head football trainer before the 1984 season. Prior to 1978, he was head athletic trainer for two years at Center Township High School.

Francis is a 1976 graduate of Pitt and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in History and Sociology, with a specialization in athletic training.

He has lectured at various high school and midget football league clinics in the area.

Originally from North Beaver (Mohawk High School) Township, Francis is single.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH MARCHING BAND

Dr. O'Neill Sanford
Director of Bands

DR. O'NEILL SANFORD Director of Bands

Dr. O'Neill Sanford begins his first year as the Director of Bands for the University of Pittsburgh.

Sanford, who directed the University of Minnesota marching band for the past nine years, is responsible for the marching, concert and pep bands at Pitt. He will be assisted by David Moy.

"We are extremely pleased to have hired O'Neill to be our new Director of Bands," said Pitt Director of Athletics Dr. Edward E. Bozik. "He comes to us highly recommended by music people from across the country. I am confident he will bring a high degree of excitement and professionalism to our various band programs and revitalize and energize our musical organization."

In addition to being Director of the Marching and Pep Bands since 1975, Mr. Sanford has served as Symphonic and Jazz Ensemble II Director and Associate Director of Bands at Minnesota. During his tenure he has revitalized the Minnesota band programs in a number of areas, including taking the marching band on tours of Spain, Mexico and Great Britain. His annual indoor concerts of the marching band have drawn sellout crowds of over 4,000 people for three consecutive nights and he has annually sold out the band records and tapes.

Prior to his appointment at Minnesota, Mr. Sanford served as Director of Bands at Virginia State College (Petersburg, Va.) from 1973-76, Director of Bands at Mississippi Valley State College from 1971-73, Assistant Director of Bands at Mississippi Valley from 1966-70 and Director of Bands at Sevier High School (Ferriday, La.) from 1965-66. He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Music Education from Southern University in 1965, and his Master's Degree in Music Education from Vandercook College of Music in Chicago in 1970.

THE PANTHER MASCOT

The Panther (felis concolor) was adopted as the University of Pittsburgh's mascot at a meeting of student and alumni leaders in the early autumn of 1909. According to George M.P. Baird, '09, who made the suggestion, it was chosen for the following reasons: (1) the Panther was the most formidable creature once indigenous to the Pittsburgh region: (2) it had ancient, heraldic standing as a noble animal; (3) the happy accident of alliteration; (4) the close approximation of its hue to the old gold of the University's colors (old gold and blue), hence its easy adaptability in decoration; and (5) the fact that no other college or university then employed it as a symbol.

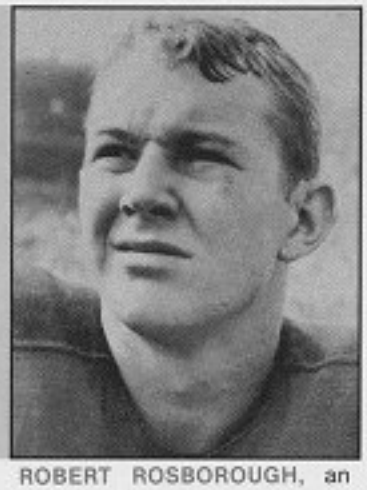
WHAT THEY'RE DOING NOW

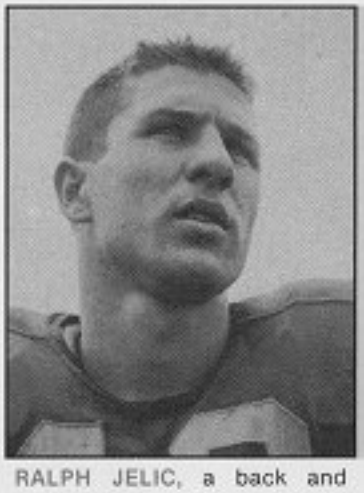
EMIL NARICK, a Pitt quarterback in the late '30s, is a judge in the Common Pleas Court in Pittsburgh. He has served as a trustee at Pitt.

DICK DEITRICK, who lettered three years in football and basketball (1951-53) and in baseball (1954), is a gynecologist and obstetrician.

DARRELL LEWIS, a quarterback (1954-56) on the Sugar Bowl and Gator Bowl teams, is a dentist in Downtown Pittsburgh and active in Pitt alumni affairs.



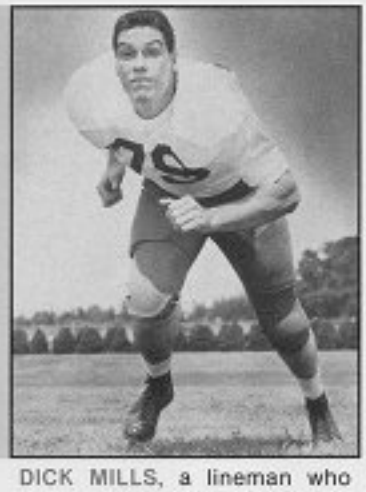
ROBERT ROSBOROUGH, an end from Donora who lettered two years (1955-56) under John Michelosen, is an administrative specialist for development and alumni affairs at Pitt.



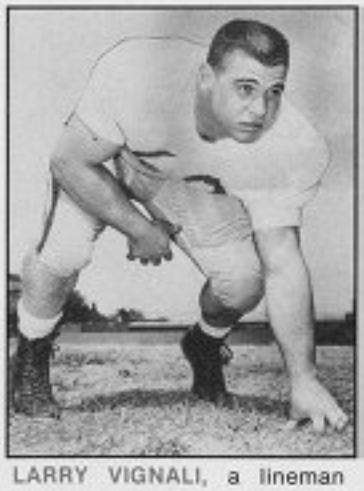
RALPH JELIC, a back and punter for the Panthers (1955-56), is in sales at Owens Corning Fiberglass and is the father of two standout Pitt athletes, Jeff and Chris.

VINCENT SCORSONE, a starting lineman in 1955-56 and a member of Pitt's Sugar Bowl and Gator Bowl squads, is a group vice president (metals division) for ALCOA.

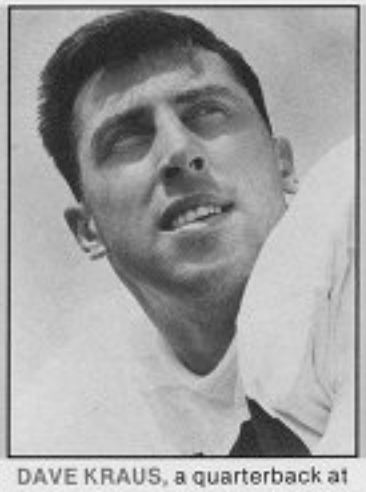
ED MICHAELS, a co-captain of the 1958 team and a guard in the North-South All-Star Game, is general manager of Penn-Allegh Coal Co. in Tarentum.



DICK MILLS, a lineman who lettered three years (1958-60) for John Michelosen's teams, is an attorney with a law firm in the Grant Building.



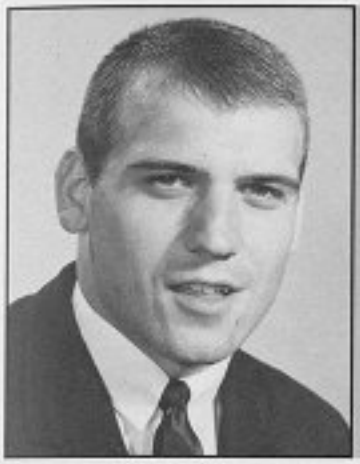
LARRY VIGNALI, a lineman who lettered for three years (1959-61) and was a teammate of present coach Foge Fazio, is a dentist in his hometown of Masontown, Pa.



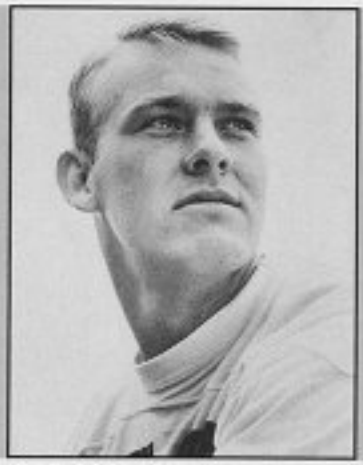
DAVE KRAUS, a quarterback at Pitt in the early '60s from Wheeling, W. Va., is an orthopedic surgeon at Mercy Hospital and resides in Mt. Lebanon.

HEYWOOD HASER, a top-notch end from New Kensington on the 1960-61 teams, is an orthopedic surgeon, and remains involved in alumni activities.

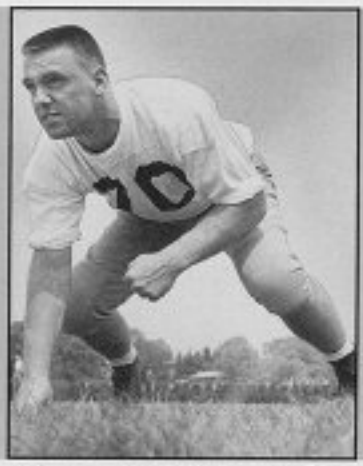
ANDY KUZNESKI, a center on the 1961 team and the first of three brothers from Indiana, Pa. to perform for the Panthers, owns and operates an insurance and travel agency in his hometown.



JIM TRAFICANT, the starting quarterback in 1961 and 1962, is a U.S. Congressman from Youngstown.



BOB OSTROSKY, a lineman at Pitt in the early '60s, is an oral maxillofacial surgeon in Natrona Heights.



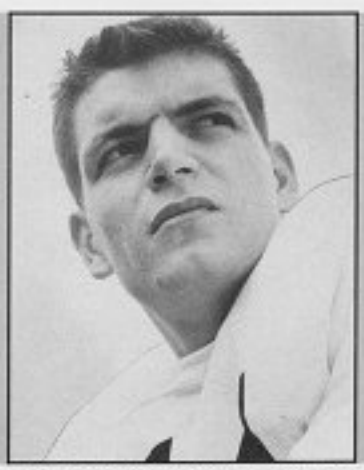
RON LINABURG, a Pitt lineman from Monongahela who lettered for three seasons (1962-64), is an endodontist in Upper St. Clair and Oakland.

FRED MAZUREK, who came from Redstone High School to quarterback the Panthers (1962-64), is a corporate lawyer in Claremont, Calif.

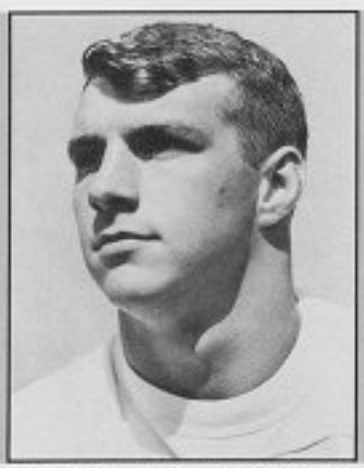
TOUCHDOWN TWINS — Rick Leeson, left, and Paul Martha were the top running backs on the 1963 9-1 Pitt team. Leeson, from Chartiers Valley High School, is a dentist today in Monroeville, while Martha, who prepped at Shady Side Academy, is the president of the Civic Arena Corp., and is responsible for the Penguins of the NHL and Spirit of the MISL.

SUCCESS STORIES — Paul Kurtz, left, a former sports writer with The Pittsburgh Press, chats at a 1965 Curbstone Coaches awards banquet with two Pitt football stars, Phil Dahar (center) and Marty Schottenheimer. Dahar, who captained the 1965 squad, is an orthodontist with offices in Greensburg and Latrobe, and Schottenheimer is the head football coach of the Cleveland Browns.

ERNIE BORGHETTI, an All-America tackle on the 1963 Panthers, is a dentist in his hometown of Youngstown.



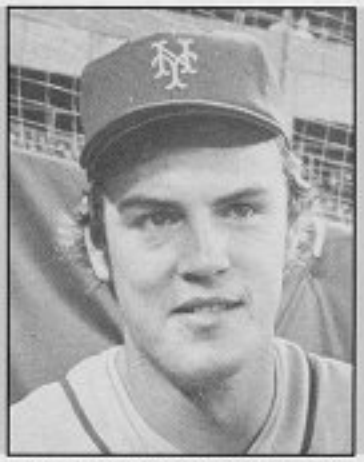
JOHN MACZUZAK, who played football and basketball at Pitt in the early '60s, is general manager of the U.S. Steel Corporation Fairless Works.



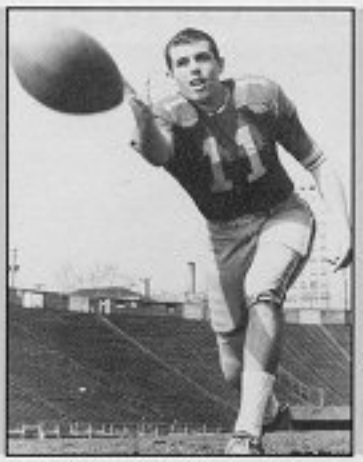
BARRY McKNIGHT, a running back who lettered for three seasons (1963-65) from Indiana, Pa., is now a dentist with offices in Oakland and Bethel Park and president of Pitt Varsity Letter Club.

JOSEPH "TIPPY" POHL, a defensive back on the 1964-66 Pitt football teams, is an account vice president for Paine Webber Jackson & Curtis in Pittsburgh.

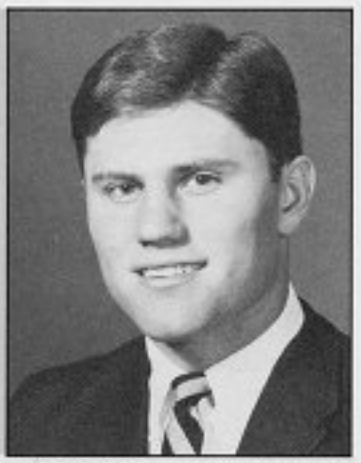
ED ASSID, who lettered in 1965, is a successful orthodontist in Pittsburgh's South Hills area, and active in alumni affairs.



GEORGE "DOC" MEDICH, who lettered three years (1967-69) and played 11 years of major league baseball, is an orthopedic surgeon, and serves as a team physician for the Pitt basketball team.



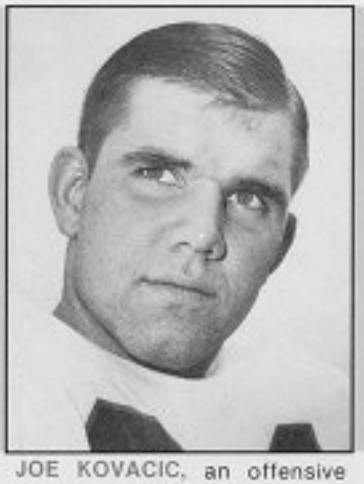
FRANK GUSTINE, JR., a quarterback who lettered three years (1967-69), is active in alumni programs. He is the president of Gustine Co., a commercial real estate firm, with Downtown offices.



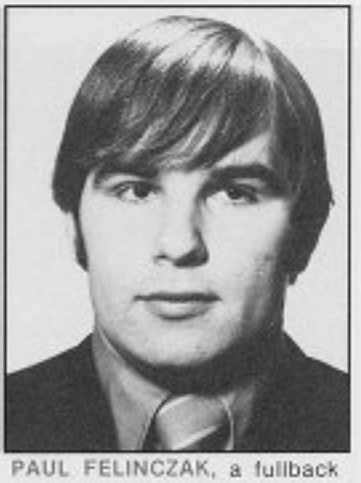
ROD FEDORCHAK, an end from Monessen for three seasons (1967-69) for the Panthers, is a dentist.

LLOYD WESTON came to Pitt (1968-70) from Westinghouse High School, where he played for Pete Dimperio's City League champions. He obtained a doctorate degree from the University two years ago.

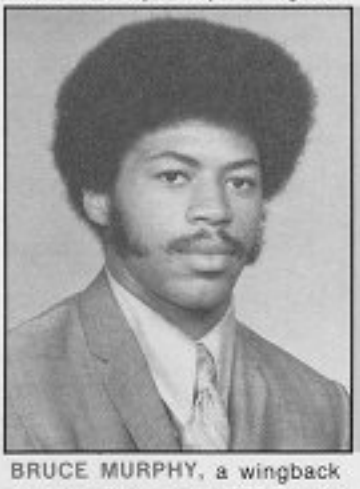
RALPH CINDRICH, a linebacker (1969, 1971) at Pitt and with the Houston Oilers, is an attorney in Mt. Lebanon and represents several Pitt athletes in pro contract negotiations.



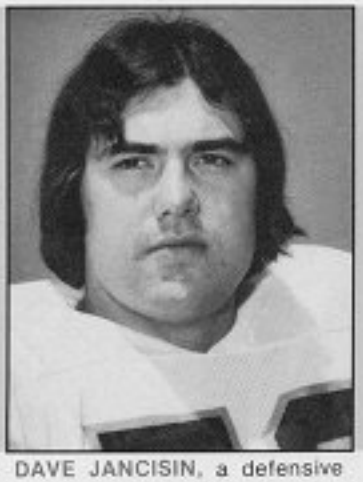
JOE KOVACIC, an offensive guard who lettered three years (1970-72) and was part of "the Major(s) change in Pitt football," is a district manager for the Equitable Life Assurance Co.



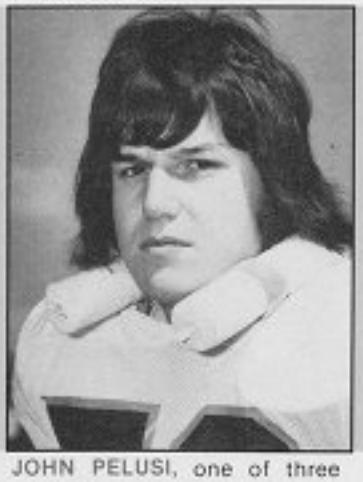
PAUL FELINCZAK, a fullback in 1971, is a senior account manager for Digital Equipment in Forest Hills.



BRUCE MURPHY, a wingback for the Panthers (1972-74), is assistant vice president of the employment services sections of Mellon Bank, and a member of the University Athletic Committee.



DAVE JANCISIN, a defensive lineman (1972-74) from West Mifflin, is a vice president at Merrill Lynch.



JOHN PELUSI, one of three brothers from a Youngstown family to play at Pitt (1974-75), is senior vice president of Carey, Kramer Pelusi & Co., Inc., mortgage bankers in Oxford Centre.

MARK MAY, winner of the Outland Trophy as the nation's outstanding lineman in 1980, plays with the Washington Redskins and is a successful businessman in the Georgetown area.

PITT RANKS 6th IN NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Elusive. Cantankerous. Agonizing. Dreadful. Wonderful. These are all adjectives used to describe that holiest of grails in college football — the search for No. 1

To settle countless arguments, Sports Illustrated in 1970 researched the first and only complete and wholly accurate list ever compiled of college football's mythical national champions. Every recognized authority that ever presumed to name a No. 1 is included. They include Parke H. Davis Ratings (1889-1935), the Helms Athletic Foundation (1889-1970), the Dickinson System (1924-1940), the Illustrated Football Annual (1924-1941), The Football Thesaurus (1927-1958), the Dunkel System (1929-1970), the Litkenhous System (1934-1970), the Williamson System (1932-1963), the Associated Press (1936-1970), the United Press International (1950-1970), the Football Writers Association of America (1954-1970), and the National Football Hall of Fame (1959-1970).

TRIBUTE TO JOCK SUTHERLAND

JOCK SUTHERLAND

"I have a deep affection for the University of Pittsburgh. It is my university. I am proud to be a Pitt man."
—Jock Sutherland

During the 1984 football season, the University of Pittsburgh paid tribute to one of its all-time distinguished athletes and coaches when it honored Dr. John Bain "Jock" Sutherland.

Jock Sutherland is a legendary figure in Pitt's football history. He was a guard on the great Pitt teams of 1914-1917 — teams that lost but one game during that span — and he gained All-America honors, and a degree in dentistry.

He replaced Pop Warner as coach in 1924, and directed Pitt to many national and eastern titles. He turned out 21 All-Americans. In 1953, he was in the first class inducted into the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

With that in mind, University officials found it appropriate to rename Stadium Road adjacent to Pitt Stadium in his honor. Now it is Sutherland Drive.

NAME CHANGE — Pittsburgh Mayor and University Trustee Richard S. Caliguiri and University President Wesley W. Posvar presided at Sutherland Dedication ceremonies.

OLD FRIENDS — Dr. Sutherland's refurbished portrait, which now graces the wall of the conference room in the department of athletics, is admired by, left to right, Vee Toner, one of Pitt's pioneer women athletes, head football coach Foge Fazio, one-time All-American (1936) and long-time Golden Panther Ave Daniell, and Eddie Beachler, a former newspaper reporter who was an admirer of Dr. Sutherland.

JOCK'S FRIEND AND FOE — Herb McCracken, center, who played quarterback at Pitt (1918-20) and was a contemporary coach of Sutherland and competed against him, is flanked by Mayor Caliguiri and Pitt's Director of Athletics Dr. Edward E. Bozik. McCracken chairs the University Athletic Committee, and remains an ardent Panther booster.

PITT HALL OF FAME AWARDEES

Thus far the University of Pittsburgh has had nine players, one coach and one player-coach elected to the National Hall of Fame. Jock Sutherland, a great guard from 1914 through 1917 and Pitt's brilliantly successful coach from 1924 through 1938, was elected in 1953, being among the first coaches named.

- In 1954, Bob Peck, Pitt's first All-America (center in 1914, 1915, and 1916), was elected as the first Pitt player to be placed on the honor roll.
- In 1958, Marshall Goldberg, an All-America Halfback in 1937 and All-America fullback in 1938.
- In 1965, George McLaren, an All-America fullback in 1917 and 1918.
- In 1967, Herb Stein, an All-America center in 1921.
- In 1970, Tom Davies, an All-America halfback in 1918 and 1920.
- In 1971, Joe Thompson, outstanding player-coach from 1904-1912.
- In 1973, Hube Wagner, brilliant end and running back from 1910-1913, and Herb McCracken, back and lineman from 1918-20.
- In 1975, Averell Daniell, All-America tackle in 1936, and Joe Skladany, All-America end in 1932 and 1933.
- In 1979, Joe Donchess, All-America end in 1929.

PITT FOOTBALL LETTERMEN (1890-1984)

The following list was compiled from various sources during the summer of 1981. Although all cautions were taken to avoid errors, we do realize that names were most likely omitted due to the immensity of the task. If you have additions, or find errors in the list, please contact the Sports Information Office.

THE FINEST — Joe Schmidt, an All-American in 1952, and Corky Cost, a standout back in 1956, get together at a University of Pittsburgh fund-raising golf outing. Schmidt went on to All-Pro greatness and a Pro Football Hall of Fame career with the Detroit Lions. Cost, the last Pitt athlete to win nine letters (three each in football, basketball and baseball), has his own construction business and is active in alumni fund-raising efforts.

1985 BLUE/GOLD SPRING GAME

Everybody left Pitt Stadium with a smile on Saturday, April 27, when the blue squad and the white team played to a 24-24 standoff during the annual Blue-Gold Spring Game.

Happiest of all had to be Pitt head coach Foge Fazio, who looked on as his squad moved the ball up and down the field in an entertaining contest before an estimated crowd of 5,000.

Trailing 24-16, the White squad moved into a position to even the score when halfback Charles Gladman rushed for a one-yard touchdown. On the two-point conversion play, Gladman took a handoff, swept right, then pulled up and completed a pass to Dave Shuck in the end zone.

The White squad had control of the contest in the first half, as it ran up a 16-7 lead. But quarterback John Congemi, halfback A.B. Brown, and wide receiver Mike Stewart combined to lead the Blue team back in the second half.

Congemi scored twice on one-yard sneaks, and Mark Brasco kicked a 44-yard field goal to give the Blue its 24-16 advantage.

There were several stars for each squad. Gladman gained 78 yards on 16 carries. Quarterback Joe Felitsky finished a fine spring by completing nine of 17 passes for 159 yards and a touchdown. Darnell Stone and Ezekial Gadson rushed for 45 and 41 yards, respectively. Wide receiver Dwayne Milloy, also playing for the white team, caught five passes for 135 yards.

For the blue squad, A.B. Brown led all runners with 98 yards on 22 carries, while Congemi completed 12 of 19 passes for 98 yards. Mike Stewart was on the receiving end of six passes and gained 68 yards.

Fazio was impressed with the effort put forth by his ball carriers, saying, "I haven't seen running backs make people miss like that for a long time."

At the half of the game several awards were presented. Each year at the conclusion of spring drills, the coaching staff selects the winners of the Ed Conway Memorial Award, given to the most improved offensive and defensive players.

This year's recipient of the Most Improved Offensive Player is Dave Shuck, a 6-3, 215-pound sophomore tight end from Connellsville, Pa. There are co-recipients of this year's Most Improved Defensive Player award. They are John "Ducky" Lewis, a 5-10 180-pound senior cornerback from Levittown, Pa., and Lee Hetrick, a 6-2, 220-pound junior linebacker from Tarentum, Pa.

After presenting those three players with their awards, Coach Fazio accepted Bill Fralic's All-America plaque from Steve Mitchell, a representative of Kodak.

THE ED CONWAY MEMORIAL AWARD

Ed Conway

Ed Conway was the "Voice of Pitt Football" for four years, before his untimely death in 1974. He was an honest, hard-working, professional sportscaster in the City of Pittsburgh for many years. Above all, Ed Conway was a friend.

In appreciation of his work, and in keeping alive memories of him, Pitt football will present an award in his honor annually to the Most Improved offensive and defensive player on the squad each spring.

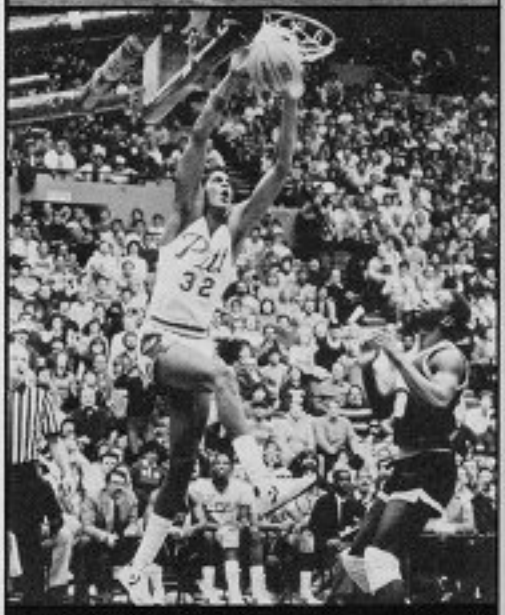
PITT SPORTS SCENE



Whereas the University of Pittsburgh competes on an independent basis in football, it is a member of the prestigious Big East Conference for most of its varsity sports.

That conference, of course, is recognized as the No. 1 basketball conference in the country. One of its members, Villanova, won the national championship last season, and two others, Georgetown and St. John's, were in the Final Four. It was the first time in history that one conference had three representatives in the championship round.

The Panthers have improved their status in the standings, moving up to fifth place last winter, and will be looked upon to do even better this time around. Pitt plays regularly to sellout crowds (6,670) at Fitzgerald Field House, and had a city record 16,523 for its game with Georgetown at the Civic Arena in Pittsburgh.

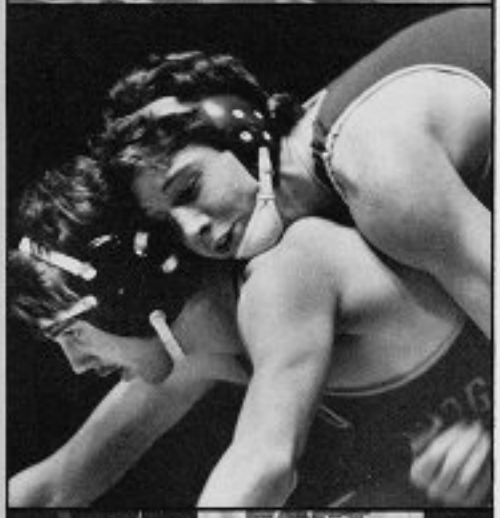
Pitt has won the men's and women's swimming and diving championships the past three years and has hosted the championship event during the same period at Trees Pool, one of the finest facilities of its kind in the country.

The Panthers also won the women's volleyball title in the Big East last fall, and are hopeful of repeating.

The school also competes in the Big East in baseball and soccer, men's and women's track and field and cross-country, women's basketball, and men's and women's tennis.

Pitt is a member of the Eastern Wrestling League. Its men's and women's gymnastics teams are points of pride, and Pitt hosted the NCAA Northeast Regional Women's Gymnastics championships last season, along with an international competition with a touring Japanese men's and women's all-star team.

So there's something for everybody in sports at Pitt.



PANTHERS ON THE AIR

Two years ago the University of Pittsburgh and 1250/WTAE Radio began a three-year agreement which will permit the station to broadcast all Panther football and basketball games. During the football season, the station will feed a regional network comprised of approximately 25 stations, including the following:

WESB—Bradford, Pa.
WISR—Butler, Pa.
WIOO—Carlisle, Pa.
WCVI—Connellsville, Pa.
WEYZ—Erie, Pa.
WSKE—Everett, Pa.
WHP—Harrisburg, Pa.
WJAC—Johnstown, Pa.
WCNS—Latrobe, Pa.
WKVA—Lewistown, Pa.
WRJS—Oil City, Pa.
WYIS—Phoenixville, Pa.
WRML—Portage, Pa.
WPXZ—Punxsutawney, Pa.
WICK—Scranton, Pa.
WVSC—Somerset, Pa.
WLIT—Steubenville, Oh.
WRRN—Warren, Pa.
WANB—Waynesburg, Pa.

Bill Hillgrove, "The Voice of the Panthers," and Johnny Sauer will once again provide the play-by-play action and color commentary, respectively, for the Panther Radio Network. WTAE Radio's coverage will also include a one-half hour pre-game show and one-half hour post-game program with live lockerroom comments from players and coaches, a review of the game with Head Coach Foge Fazio, reports from Pitt opponents across the country, a college scoreboard update, and a listener call-in portion.

NOTES TO THE MEDIA

This yearbook has been prepared for the members of the working press who will cover the Pitt Panther football team during the 1985 season. Additions to the contents of this book, changes in personnel and plans, and supplemental information will be provided prior to and during the football season by the Sports Information Office. If you desire additional information, please contact:

Sports Information Office, University of Pittsburgh, P.O. Box 7436, Pittsburgh, PA 15213, Phone: (512) 624-4588

INTERVIEW POLICY: If a member of the media wishes to interview a player or coach of the University of Pittsburgh football team, you must contact the Sports Information Office in advance. Every attempt will be made to fulfill your request as efficiently and quickly as possible.

Head Coach Foge Fazio will be available for interviews by the media through Thursday before game day. The best time to reach Coach Fazio is 11:00 AM. In addition, Coach Fazio will conduct a weekly press conference at 12 noon on Tuesdays in the multipurpose room of the Athletic Department facilities, which are located at Gate 2 of Pitt Stadium. Generally, there will be one or two players and an assistant coach available for interview at Coach Fazio's conference.

Player interviews will be set up only by the Sports Information Office. Please give us at least a day's notice or more, if possible. There will be no player interviews after Wednesday evening before game day. Players' phone numbers will not be given out.

"PITT IRON WORKS"

Some doomsdayers say the iron and steel business in Pittsburgh is dead, but they haven't been to Buddy Morris' modern plant at Pitt Stadium.

There, just off the football team's spacious locker room, business is booming. Everybody seems to be working overtime, and there isn't any time of day when somebody isn't pumping iron, or adding muscle to the Pitt football machine.

Morris is weight training coordinator for Foge Fazio's football squad. He is a well-muscled, demanding and meticulous young man who gets the most out of his troops. He provides testimony to his own preaching, and insists that the room and every machine be as clean as possible.

Dedication and discipline are words and principles Morris espouses, and he points proudly to the likes of Jim Sweeney, Marlon McIntyre and Bill Fralic for proof that his methods work. If, that is, the individuals are willing to work.

The room, outfitted with the latest in Nautilus and free weight equipment, has a sign labeling it "PITT IRON WORKS." It's a sign that has appeared in Sports Illustrated because the room has helped produce a string of pro performers and outstanding collegiate athletes that have put Pitt among the most prominent football programs in the country.

Morris is clear on his objectives. This is not a cosmetic shop for future Arnold Schwarzeneggers. "If you want to look good, that's fine, but it's most important to improve on the field," says Morris. "Beauty never won a football game."

Former Pitt All-America offensive tackle Bill Fralic spent an awful lot of time in the Pitt weight room . . .

. . . and it paid off on the field.

SPORTS INFORMATION

JIM O'BRIEN
Assistant Athletic Director for Public Relations/Sports Information Director

Jim O'Brien is in his third year of promoting the athletic program at his alma mater. He is a 1964 graduate with a B.A. degree in English.

Anybody who has seen Jim leading a pack of grade school youngsters through the Field House or Pitt Stadium can appreciate how much he enjoys introducing young people to Pitt, its athletic facilities, coaches, administrators and athletes.

He took over a thousand youngsters on such field trips last spring, and sent them home vowing to follow Pitt's sports teams for the rest of their lives.

Those field trips, the football highlight film, an internship program and community service and outreach programs by Pitt representatives are some of the programs he is proudest of establishing.

He serves on the board of directors for the Oakland Business and Civic Association, the Ozanam Cultural Center, the National Football Foundation, Dapper Dan Club and Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame, Western Chapter.

He previously worked at The Pittsburgh Press, New York Post and The Miami News. He has been editor of Street & Smith's Basketball Yearbook for 16 years, and continues to contribute to many local and national publications. He has edited two books, "Pittsburgh: The Story of the City of Champions," and "Hail to Pitt: A Sports History of the University of Pittsburgh."

O'Brien and his wife, Kathleen, who has her master's degree in social work from Pitt, are active in many community programs, including PTA, and are enthusiastic tennis and bridge players. They have two daughters, Sarah, 12, and Rebecca, 8.

BEATRICE SCHWARTZ
Secretary/Editorial Assistant

Bea Schwartz is the heart and soul of the sports information office and its poet laureate. She has been with the department for the past seven seasons, and at the University for 15 years. She previously worked as a secretary in the philosophy department, which figures.

Anybody who has ever dealt with the sports information department has a Bea Schwartz story. She's a "people person," and has a smile for everyone even when everybody else might look as if the sky has fallen on them that particular day.

She has quite the vocabulary, is an astute speller, and a dedicated worker who keeps things moving smoothly.

A native of Uniontown, Bea has a theatrical and radio background and calls on it to entertain everyone who visits the Pitt department of athletics.

Bea has two sons — Dr. Alan Schwartz, of Phoenix, Ariz., who is the medical director of the emergency center of Phoenix Baptist Hospital, and Marchie, who is in the automobile business in Phoenix. Bea has four grandchildren, Danny, Britton, Melissa and Jeffrey.

Pat Hanlon, who served as editor of this yearbook, left Pitt in late July to become assistant sports information director in the athletic department of The University of Oklahoma. Hanlon had a three-year tour at Pitt, the last two as assistant sports information director. He and Jim O'Brien combined to win "best in the district" honors from CoSIDA for their 1984 football yearbook and 1984 football game programs.

Prints of the Pitt Panthers Hall of Fame portrait on the cover of Pitt Football 1985 can be purchased at Maser Galleries, 5427 Walnut Street, Pittsburgh, PA 15232, or phone (412) 687-0885. Twenty percent of sales will be donated to the Pitt Golden Panthers.

LINDA VENZON
Assistant Sports Information Director

Linda Venzon begins her sixth season on the sports information staff.

A 1980 Pitt graduate, Venzon worked one full year as a student intern in the sports information office while attending Pitt, before gaining public relations experience on the professional level with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In five years, Venzon has been media liaison for 15 regional, conference and international varsity events. During that time, her duties were expanded to cover Pitt's 17 varsity sports while assisting in men's basketball and football.

This season, Venzon will assist Jim O'Brien with the Pitt football program.

She was selected to assist the NCAA in its initial women's basketball championship in Norfolk, Virginia. She is a member of the College Sports Information Directors of America and won her first CoSIDA award for the 1981 women's basketball brochure. The 1984-85 varsity sports media guide edited by O'Brien and Venzon was recognized as "Best in the Nation" in the multi-sports publications.

Venzon begins her fourth season as the District II CoSIDA Academic All-America coordinator for men's sports. She is a member of the Foge Fazio Leukemia Golf Committee and has worked on special publications for the Eastern Wrestling League. She also served as media liaison for the Team Xerox Marathon, held in Pittsburgh for the first time last year.

Venzon is originally from Harrison Park.

KIMBALL SMITH
Ticket Sales Director/ Promotions and Men's Basketball Publicist

Kimball Smith begins his ninth season as a member of the sports information staff.

A 1975 graduate of Cornell University, Smith continued his education at the University of Massachusetts where he earned his Master's Degree in Athletic Administration in 1976. He worked in the sports information offices at both Cornell and UMass before coming to Pitt as a graduate intern in the fall of 1976. He was hired in his present capacity in the spring of 1977.

Smith's duties include the coordination of promotions and ticket sales for both football and basketball. Three years ago he won a CoSIDA award for the 1982-83 men's basketball brochure.

He is married to the former Nancy Rees; they have a daughter, Kelly Jean, age 7.
